On death and dying

HAUNTS & JAUNTS

By Rick Hinton

Faithful reader of The Southside Times and freelance writer, Tess Baker, retired from IUPUI in 2010, has thoughts on finality when we move on to another existence:

“New spring blooms are everywhere. I am thinking about death and dying. We all do it. We all know that when we are born, no one leaves this earth in human form—our bodies left behind, discarded by our spirit that goes on somewhere. Every culture has this knowledge and belief, however primitive, and rituals to make it more bearable. But we still don't really know what happens after death.”

“This terrible fear of dying, part of it instinctive, keeps us from doing stupid things that hasten our death. Faith is supposed to keep the fear of dying at bay. My brother Steve, a faithful Catholic, went to church every Sunday and bible study during the week. His social life was his church. The two standards in his life were job and faith. I never saw him without either one.”

“He went to the dentist one day in May 2012. Blood in his mouth was coming from somewhere and his dentist dismissed him, telling him to go to the nearest emergency room. Admitted into the hospital for further tests, Steve went from daily routine to giving his life and soul to a cancer growing in his head which had metastasized to his kidneys: the last 4 months of his life.”

“When released from the hospital and told he needed constant supervision, we (my other brother, his wife, my daughter and I) spent Memorial Day weekend cleaning out his apartment. We all became his support group. It was my job to run a gauntlet of scheduling nurse care, rehab visits, hospice and visits from the family priest. The last professional visit was the hospice doctor, giving instructions on pain medication helping my brother through his ordeal.”

“I held his hand one hot summer night and folded one of my mothers' earrings inside his palm. I told him that mom was waiting for him and she would be there to greet him. He needn't fear death. Yet, the person I thought most likely to be calm in death was terrified and fought for days, clinging to what was left of life. I assured Steve that mother was there. I was so sure of it. Our mother went home to heaven in 1984, yet I was positive that if one person was ever sitting at the throne of Jesus, it would be her. That night, Steve went home, free of pain forever.”

“I am not afraid of death anymore,” Tess states.

“I think there is a point in old age when death becomes more welcome. Relatives and friends that went before you are going to come for you and bring you home. I'm still living life, loving my back yard, exercise classes, shopping, and short trips—the world I have come to love still means so much to me. But there is something else out there and it's wonderful beyond everything imaginable. My mother told me so.”

FROM THE EDITOR

What the Beep?

The Southside Times has featured so many events in its decades of existence. Just when we thought we'd seen it all, here comes along something that surprises us. This Saturday, May 21, the Southport Police Department will play a baseball game against two professional teams. How is that surprising? It's Beep Baseball, designed for those who are blind or visually impaired. The officers will be blindfolded along with their competitors to be on equal playing ground.

Greenwood-based Indy Edge will play against the police at 9:30 a.m. Broad Ripple-based Indy Thunder will play against the officers at 11 a.m. Then Indy Edge and Indy Thunder will compete at 2:15 p.m. After the games, the public will have a chance to try their hand at batting, blindfolded. The event, sponsored by the Lions Club of Southport Inc., is free and open to the public. Donations will be accepted to help the teams go to the World Series in Ames, Iowa.

Southport Police Chief Thomas Vaughn said he thought it would be fun to pit the officers against the professionals for a game the whole community will enjoy. We can't agree more. We're sure the officers will not only have a fun time playing the game, but we'll surely get a laugh out of watching them try their hand at the good 'ole American pastime with a twist. We hope to see you there!

STARS &amp; STRIKES ON THE SOUTHSIDE

The Southside Times is all about people and our community. What do you like in your neighborhood? What don't you like? Who has done something nice, no matter how small and should be recognized? Email your "Stars and Strikes" to news@ss-times.com. Jim Simmons of Garfield Park and Chad Mertz of Greenwood contributed to this week's Stars and Strikes.

★ Star: To the Garfield Farmer's Market, located in the park, which opened for the first time to large but manageable crowds and followed that up May 14 with another big crowd in spite of cold weather. Several vendors sold out, and it was rainy! The organization is led by neighbors Julia Woody and Ashley Brooks and their Advisory Board and operates Saturdays, 9 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. weekly.

★ Star: To organizers of the annual Mutt Strut which blanketed Garfield Park with hundreds (perhaps more) of people and even more dogs in an event to benefit the Humane Society. Supporters included both the Garfield Park Neighbors Association and the Friends of Garfield Park.

★ Star: To Restore Old Town Greenwood (ROTG) and to all of the volunteers who participated in the sixth annual Old Town Community Clean-Up Day on May 7. ROTG organizes and runs the annual event, which drew more than 50 volunteers this year. Everyone graciously volunteered their Saturday morning to help make downtown Greenwood look the best it can and prepare for the many activities happening in the area this summer.

★ Star: To Linda Banta and the rest of the Southport Parks board who organized the annual Spring Festival on May 14. The event was a success, despite the cold weather which caused it to shut down a little early. Participants enjoyed the pet parade, pie contest, vendors, entertainment with dancing, open air art contest and more throughout the day!

HUMOR

Top ten reasons Torry will not be allowed back to the next Shallo's beer tasting event

Compiled by
Mrs. Torry Stiles

(Dear readers - Torry Stiles is unable to finish this week's Top Ten list. Shallo's Antique Bar had their annual Spring beer tasting event and Torry felt obligated to attend. He is still in bed trying to think of a new disease to call in sick with. I volunteered to do this one for him.)

10. The folks at Shallo's are also looking for help for one of their family. They are asking friends to donate at gofundme.com/standwithstacy to defray medical and life expenses for one of their servers. Torry could have helped get the word out but he claims the buttons on his phone are too loud.

9. I am too old to carry him home any more. Next time we're calling for FedEx freight delivery and HE can pay the shipping.

8. I still have no idea where his shoes ended up or where he got the pair he wore home.

7. Whoever thought it a good idea to serve asparagus as part of the veggie platter at a beer fest needs his head examined.

6. I slapped him because, frankly, no one there wanted to "see the elephant."

5. The bouncers were no more impressed with his claim of being a professional journalist than was I. The fact he made that announcement while standing on the table toasting Perry White, Lois Lane and Clark Kent didn't help.

4. We were all happy to hear that 'South Cider' is made in Fountain Square. However his loyalty to things south of Washington Street does not obligate him to try and deplete their entire stock.

3. I don't know how to make him a NyQuil martini and I highly doubt it will help his headache.

2. Torry, I love you, but you can NOT sing. You also SHOULD NOT sing. Especially 'The Rodeo Song' while strolling past a family of five.

1. While he has always been a good tipper it was not necessary to slip five bucks and a boozy "thank you" to the trash can at the door.

Crews prepare to tear down, build up Beech Grove McDonalds

UPGRADES

By Brian R. Ruckle

Beech Grove area residents accustomed to buying morning coffee, stopping in for hotcakes, and picking up burgers at the South Emerson Avenue McDonald's will need to take a detour to enjoy their Big Macs and Happy Meals this summer.

Wrecking and construction crews are scheduled to knock down and rebuild the 4541 S. Emerson Ave. McDonald's south of I-465 during the first week in June. The last fries and hamburgers will be sold on the evening of Tuesday, May 31 before the doors open again on a new modern McDonald's at the end of the summer.

"After years of business there we have decided that the facility needs to be upgraded to meet the current standards. It will be the ultimate remodel. We are going to tear it down and start all over," said Roy Stuckey, Andi Inc. co-owner of eight area McDonald's with Jim Props.

Stuckey said the Emerson Avenue McDonald's was their fifth restaurant. They opened it in July 1983 when Ronald Reagan was president, Flashdance's 'What a Feelin'' was on the top of the music charts and National Lampoon's Vacation hit the movie screens. He said the new contemporary McDonald's will be 35 feet longer, will have dual lane drive thru, a large outdoor patio area and all new modern equipment and decor inside. It will continue to be open 24 hours.

"It will be a brand new restaurant with the most efficient equipment. It will be larger and it will look at lot bigger. It is going to look like a battleship," said Stuckey.

Starting June 1 through the end of the summer, customers can find the familiar McDonald's arches five minutes away at 3649 S Keystone Ave., seven minutes away at 2230 S. Sherman Dr., seven minutes away at 4044 E. Southport Rd., and 12 minutes away at 1197 S. Park Dr. in Greenwood.

Jason Grable

Greenwood community relations officer says he is busier but having more fun than ever

BEHIND the BADGE

Compiled by Nicole Davis

Now in his 19th year of law enforcement, serving for the Greenwood Police Department, Jason Grable said he still loves the job.

"We keep growing. It keeps getting busier," he said. "It keeps getting more crowded. Regardless, the people are still the best thing in our city. We couldn't do what we do if this city wasn't full of good, hard working people."

Grable was hired to the Greenwood PD in 1997. He resides in Franklin Township with his wife, Nicole. He now serves as community relations officer, with duties that include writing grants for the department, and serving as a hostage crisis negotiator and school resource officer. Recently, he's been teaching a course called CRASE – Civilian Response to Active Shooter Events. He will visit schools, libraries, churches or businesses in the city limits. He said the 90-minute program is the most comprehensive one he's seen to train groups of civilians on active shooter situations. Those interested can reach him at grablej@greenwood.in.gov.

What was your inspiration to become a police officer?

It was by chance. I graduated from Greenwood. From my early teenage years, I wanted to design airplanes... I went to Purdue. At the time, I was excited because their engineering program was phenomenal. God always has a different plan for us. I joined a fraternity and made the varsity cheerleading squad. I had cheered in high school... My sophomore year, I was so busy. I was in calculus, physics and chemistry. I felt like I was churning numbers all of the time. I wanted to try something different, more creative, be around people. My dad retired from IMPD after 37 years. I looked up to him and his profession. I transferred to the sociology department and loved it, talking about the law, social aspects of criminal justice and society. I transferred to IUPUI School of Criminal Justice. While I was still in school, I hired on at Greenwood, at 23 years old.

What has been one of your most gratifying moments on the job?

One of my favorites is more of a medic run... I remember a call U.S. 31 Northbound from Main Street. The dispatch put out a choking infant call at an apartment complex less than a mile away. I didn't think about it; I didn't respond to the radio. I just drove there. I was 30 seconds away. I ran towards the front door. There two women screaming, one holding an 8-month-old child. She thrust him into my arms. He was not getting air. He was choking on a piece of candy. Training kicked in. I flipped him over and did back blows. I did it twice. I flipped him back over. He took a breath. That was a good feeling, one of my favorite days.

What aspect of the job do you find most challenging?

Time management because I wear so many hats and have so many responsibilities. I'm busier than I've ever been. But I'm having so much fun, it doesn't bother me at all.

What do you enjoy doing in your off-time?

I love to travel and spend time with the kids. I have two kids of my own, 16 and 19. My niece and nephew, 8 and 10, live with us now. Our home life is busier. Everyone is in sports.

What are your future goals, professionally or personally?

That 20-year landmark is approaching in law enforcement. Once you hit 20 you're vested in your pension but that is really insignificant. I am having so much fun. Personally, I want to get all these kids raised successfully and get them through college.

What would you have done if you hadn't become a police officer?

There is a part of me to this day that has a desire to build and create. I used to be a contractor, so in my own home I do all the work in construction, repairs. I like working with my hands and seeing the finished product.

Dept. of Education recognizes Hornet Enrichment

STUDENTS

The Hornet Enrichment Academy has been recognized by the Indiana Department of Education as a school of Promising Practice. The Hornet Enrichment Academy, a program of Beech Grove City Schools, is one of 200 education or wraparound service programs to be recognized by the Department in honor of Indiana's bicentennial celebration.

"The foundation of the Hornet Enrichment Academy is the relationships that are established, where students have the support of an educational mentor who guides their academic and personal growth," stated Paul

A. Kaiser, Ph.D., Beech Grove City Schools Superintendent. "Our teachers have a strong understanding of the needs of at-risk students and are invested in the idea of a non-traditional learning environment. We are proud to have the Hornet Enrichment Academy as a part of Beech Grove City Schools."

Identified programs, like the Hornet Enrichment Academy, are student-centered and focus on positively impacting students through innovative programming and activities that provide a high-quality learning environment and experience. For more information, visit does.in.gov/outreach/promising-practices.

Restoring Visions

By Nicole Davis

Taking slightly damaged furniture and fixing any dents or scratches, making sure each piece is sturdy and looking like new before reselling it isn't just giving the tables, chairs or desks a second chance to be used in the homes of the buyers. It's a second chance for students as well: to finish high school and earn job and life experience they'll need to be successful in the future.

Not every student fits into the traditional high school setting. Opened in Beech Grove January 2015, The Crossing is a school for those who aren't doing so well in high school, drop out or get expelled for behavioral problems.

Nick Miller, a junior, said he was flunking almost every class before it was recommended that he consider The Crossing in Beech Grove. Now he has college on his mind, with a desire to attend Ball State and major in communications.

"I didn't get in trouble," Miller said. "I just got all F's all of the time. I talked to a counselor about what I could do. I wasn't a fan of the idea but I came here. I actually appreciate school now more than I thought I would. We have really made this school ours. None of this was here when we got here. This school is completely different. You are rewarded for attendance. You don't feel like you're just a face in a crowd of 30. You don't get that at any other school."

As part of the school requirements, students must receive job training. The students began working in November to create a business plan and opened Second Chance Furniture in April, with factory-damaged furniture that they have repaired and are selling at discounted prices at 611 Main St., Beech Grove.

"We're learning the business together," said Austin Martin, sophomore. "It's not just a class where the teacher directs us. We make group decisions on what we're going to do."

Meghann Bowman came to The Crossing in September as the micro-business instructor.

Second Chance - The Crossing in Beech Grove furnishes students with the opportunity for a second chance at high school graduation

"I've definitely seen the kids change," she said. "When we first started we were asked to have a vision, talk to the kids and get them on board. Now the kids take it and run with it. If I wasn't here, I think it would still run. They're just so passionate about it. They have matured so much in their desire to run their own business."

Jaylin Albertson, sophomore, said before coming to The Crossing, he had been kicked out of school twice. Now he's going to graduate early and intends to join the Marine Corps when he's eligible. He said he's enjoyed working on promoting and marketing Second Chance, a project that has given him an interest in leadership.

"I have managing experience now," Albertson said. "I was here for all of this. I helped with the business plan. I can use that. It's taught me life lessons, lessons you don't learn in school normally."

There are 60 students in the Indianapolis-area campus. Aside from their classes, students are given time to have mature discussions with one another and their teachers, get an hour lunch break and spend time working at the furniture store. There is another campus of The Crossing in Whiteland, which operates a microbusiness making pallet art. Some of that art is hung at the Second Chance store in Beech Grove.

"Everyone needs furniture but we provide it with a story," Bowman said. "Each piece of furniture has a story. Each student has a story. The students say the mission statement is, 'We give furniture a second chance just like the crossing gives us a second chance.' You can buy furniture anywhere but buying it here really gives back to their future and edu-

Most of the students who were behind for their grade level are on track or almost on track to graduate early. School is out for the summer on June 10, but students will continue to operate the business year-round.

"I look forward to seeing how this grows with the store being new," Bowman said. "With The Crossing being newer to the Indianapolis area, I'm excited to see where we can expand and what different types of students we can start reaching. For me, personally, the thing I'm most excited about is seeing leadership traits that develop within them and where they go in the next couple of years... These past two weeks the students have been working on a final product. They go from running around like crazy to silent to so focused and thirsty to learn more. Seeing them be passionate about business and entrepreneurship this past week has been priceless."

Roncalli's Harmon wins architectural competition

DESIGN

Roncalli High School senior Jared Harmon won first place in the five states Great Lakes Regional National Women in Construction architectural design competition. His commercial retail store design advances him to the national finals where he will compete with eleven other students' works from across the United States for the national title. Three Roncalli architecture students, under teacher Jim Ratliff, swept the statewide competition earlier in the month. Harmon took first place, David Wade second and Grant Schoening third place.

McClurg hired as Roncalli wrestling coach

SPORTS

Roncalli High School has hired Wade McClurg as its wrestling coach. McClurg has spent the last four seasons as the associate head wrestling coach at Carmel High School and as the associate head coach for the Carmel USA Wrestling Club. He served as the coach of the Indiana State Wrestling Association (ISWA) National Team and was the 2013-14 ISWA Coach of the Year. McClurg coached three IHSAA state champions and seven IHSAA state finalists. An alumnus of Beech Grove High School, McClurg graduated from the University of Indianapolis in 2013 with a bachelor's degree in elementary education. The Roncalli wrestling program opens its 2016-17 season in November.

USS Indianapolis survivor to speak at PMHS

WWII VET

On May 19, hear first-hand from a WWII veteran about the cost of freedom and that determination, perseverance, and survival in the face of horrendous and unfathomable odds, is achievable. Mr. Richard (Dick) Thelen, a sailor on the Heavy Cruiser USS Indianapolis will speak, at Perry Meridian High School at 6:30 p.m. The Indianapolis was one of the fastest ships in the US Navy in WW II. Although it served with honor in many key Pacific battles, it was most famous for its' last voyage. It was chosen to transport a secret weapon from San Francisco to the Tinian Island, a tiny spec in the Pacific Ocean. That weapon was the world's first atom bomb. After completing the mission, the ship departed to prepare for the coming invasion of the Japanese mainland. Just after midnight on July 30, 1945, Japanese torpedoes found their mark, the "Indy". She sank in less than 15 minutes, taking 400 men down with her and casting the rest into the dark, oil-soaked flaming Pacific. They had virtually no survival gear, food or water. They were not found for almost 5 days.

Franklin Central's Kalia is Indiana Miss Math

MATH

On May 11, Patrick McGrew, Director of Education Policy from Indiana Governor Mike Pence's office named Franklin Central Senior, Jasmine Kalia as Indiana's 2016 Miss Math. This honor recognizes Jasmine for her exemplary performance in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). She received a $1,000 college scholarship through Indiana's CollegeChoice 529 Direct Savings Plan. Indiana's Miss Math award honors the top high school senior in STEM classes, as well as extracurricular activities, work/research projects, leadership roles, and community service. This is the second Franklin Central student to be named Miss Math. In 2015, Maggie Christy was given the same honor. These awards represent the hard work and determination of our students and the Franklin Township Community School Corporation teachers.

SR 37 repaving project to start in July

STREETS

Indiana Department of Transportation officials met with contractor representatives MAY 11 at Seymour District offices to review expectations and set construction timelines for repairing and repaving six miles of State Road 37. A $3,312,000 pavement preservation project—beginning at S.R. 144 in northwest Johnson County and extending to Wicker Road in southern Marion County—is on schedule for summer construction. Reith Riley, the state's contractor, plans to patch S.R. 37 roadbed starting immediately after the July 4th weekend. Milling and paving operations should begin later in the month. Flaggers will be onsite to direct motorists around moving worksites.

The state's contract which has an October completion date includes work at drive and street/road approaches. They include: S.R. 144, C.R. 144, Stones Crossing, Old S.R. 37, Olive Branch Road, Bluff Lane, C.R. 900N, Smith Valley Road, Bluff Road, Fairview Drive, County Line Road, Glens Valley Road and Wicker Road. A new 2-inch Stone Matrix Asphalt (SMA) lift will restore S.R. 37's surface and ride-ability while extending service life. This section of S.R. 37 has a traffic count of 33,270 vehicles per day. Motorists can learn about highway work zones and other traffic alerts at indot.carsprogram.org, 1-800-261-ROAD (7623) or 511 from a mobile phone.

Discover Child Development Center earns accreditation

HEALTH

The Discovery Child Development Center located at Johnson Memorial Health's Franklin campus has received the NECPA National Accreditation Council and Commission's full Accreditation designation. Discovery now joins a select group of early childhood care and education programs nationwide and internationally that have shown an exceptional commitment to professional and programmatic quality through Accreditation. This accreditation is awarded to Discovery Child Development Center for three years. National Accreditation earns the Discovery Child Development Center a Level 4 Paths to Quality rating. Paths to Quality is Indiana's Child Care Quality Rating and Improvement System. Paths to Quality gives families an easy to recognize tool for selecting a child care program.

■ What it means: Resolution 16-07 recognizes May 15- 21, 2016 as National Police Week and publicly salutes the service of law enforcement officers in the community and across the nation.

Ordinance 16-32 states that all new sewer accounts must be opened in the name of the property owner. Existing tenant accounts will continue until the tenant changes and a new account is opened.

■ What's next: Resolution 16-07 goes into effect and names May 15-21, 2016 as National Police Week. Ordinance 16-32 will go into effect for all Sanitary Sewer Utility accounts opened after July 31, 2016.

SOUTHPORT CITY COUNCIL

Meeting, May 16

■ What happened: No new ordinances were introduced during the May meeting.

In brief...

- The city of Southport recognized Southport Elementary for earning the 2016 TAP Founders Award. The award includes a $50,000 prize to be used toward continuing to improve classroom teaching and student success. The TAP (The System for Teacher and Student Advancement) Founder's Award is given annually to one school for exceptional efforts to implement and represent the principles of the TAP System – resulting in significant and sustained increases in student achievement, among other goals. Southport Elementary School was selected among six award finalists from districts across the country!

Doug Shinkle earns volunteer award

AWARD

The Perry Township School Board awarded its highest annual volunteer honor during the May 9 board meeting. Superintendent Dr. Thomas Little, Jr. presented the 2016 Jim and Vivian Leach Volunteer Award to Mr. Doug Shinkle. Mr. Shinkle has been volunteering at Homcroft Elementary for the past four years coordinating volunteer efforts between his church, Southport UMC, and the school. Those who nominated him say Doug makes weekly visits to work with students in all grade levels and that he is often seen in the cafeteria eating lunch with students. School leaders say he serves as a role model and provides much needed connections that many students need in their lives. Through his efforts many volunteers have been provided to the school to help with after school activities including After School Achievers and Successmaker Clubs. Under his leadership many students and families in need of essential items such as clothing and groceries have been helped. "We strongly believe that without the support of this man and the volunteers from SUMC Homcroft would not have attained their "A" rating for the last two years", says Homcroft Principal Jody Matthews.

Tick, tock

Hoosierboy Restorations donates its services to restore the clock on Beech Grove City Hall

RESTORATION

By Nicole Davis

The clock on Beech Grove City Hall was pretty simple-looking. Built by Neon Clock Company in 1949, the clock had some minor restoration done to it, but otherwise the years had taken its toll.

"It was in pretty sad shape," said Tim Showalter, Beech Grove resident and owner of Hoosierboy Restoration. "It worked but it was really dirty and corroded. The outside had been painted at least six times. Whenever they painted the building I think they just slapped a coat of paint on it. There was even paint on the lens of the clock, covering up some of the numbers."

When Allen Whitaker, of Whiteland, stopped in Showalter's shop a month ago, the topic of neon clocks came up. Whitaker mentioned how he'd love to see the Beech Grove clock get restored.

"So I contacted the mayor and offered to restore the clock free of charge if he would be interested," Showalter said. "The next day the clock showed up in my office."

Neon Clock Company went out of business in the 50s, so there aren't a lot of parts available. Whitaker, who has more than 200 neon clocks in his Whiteland business, helped obtain those parts. They stripped the coats of paint, keeping the metal finish visible on the exterior. They also constructed a marquee, stating "Beech Grove" to sit on top of the clock as was custom in the early 50s.

Neon Express, near Keystone Ave., donated the neon. The neon is the clock's original colors: pink and green.

"I'm excited to get the response from people, see what they have to say about it," Showalter said. "It's not a real iconic looking clock. Hopefully it will be a little more visible with restoration. It had a lot of potential. It should really brighten up that front entrance."

The restored clock was hung by the Beech Grove Department of Public Works on May 11.

Prevent heartworm infections

PAWS for THOUGHT

By Dr. Jeff Ambrous

It is finally warm outside again - or getting there. It is time for hiking, biking, walks, cookouts and also insects. Mosquitoes are back, and with them come the risk of heartworms.

Heartworms are a common parasite here in Indiana. They are spread from dog to dog by the bite of a mosquito. Because of this, any dog is at risk, even on a leash or in your arms.

Heartworm disease can cause a wide array of signs. Some of these include, coughing, lethargy, poor appetite and weight loss. As it progresses, signs of heart failure will begin to appear.

Because of the frequency of this problem and the potential severity of the symptoms, it is a much better idea to prevent than to treat later. Although there is a treatment available, it can be expensive and dangerous. That is why I always recommend that dogs are given a preventative medication. This is usually a monthly product that will stop any infections before they cause any problems. Dogs should be tested for heartworms before starting on this medication.

I hope everyone has a happy and healthy summer.

Asparagus: Grab a spear my dear

NUTRITION

By Chef Wendell Fowler

As the brown-gray mood of winter melts away giving way to warmer temperatures, chirping robins, bright green grass and budding trees; nature's ultimate finger, asparagus, eagerly pokes its purple tips through the soil, promising the warmth of summer to come. If you've grown up eating asparagus out of a tin can, then it cannot be said you have truly experienced the ritual taste of spring.

The revered, luxurious member of the lily family has been historically reserved for royalty and rulers and is derived from the Greek word, asparago, meaning to sprout or shoot up. History shares Roman emperors were so fond of asparagus they kept special fleets of ships solely to fetch it. Ancient Romans hoarded a private stash since they believed asparagus spears cured all ailments.

Ancient Chinese herbalists have used asparagus root for centuries.

A superfood, asparagus provides folic acid, necessary for blood cell formation and growth, helps prevention liver disease, cervical cancer, colon and rectal cancer and heart disease. Asparagus is a source of potassium, fiber, thiamin, B6, rutin, vitamins A, C and vitamin E. Asparagus have steroids that mimic pheromones, which purportedly make you attractive to lovers. Ooo-la-la!

Asparagus contains glutathione that helps break down highly toxic oxygen rich compounds, preventing them from destroying cell membranes. Glutathione also helps repair damaged DNA and, bind carcinogens in the temple, aiding in their removal via the urine and feces. Asparagus magic may help reduce cataracts as well.

I've discovered storing the asparagus spears refrigerated upright in a jar or bowl with an inch of water, just like placing flowers in a vase, will keep asparagus fresh for about a week.

Somewhere between 20 to 40 percent of the population observe that their urine smells oddly pungent after they eat asparagus which is partly caused by the sulfur compounds in the spring vegetable. Apparently, methanethiol is to share odiferous blame and is famous for its effect in rotten eggs, cabbages and paper mills.

Just what is the socially correct way to eat and enjoy asparagus? Fingers versus the fork? Just eat it! But don't overcook them and destroy their heavenly goodness. They should remain a bit crisp.

I'll never forget Mom warning us as my brothers and I ran through the family garden uprooting and using asparagus spears as swords in our imaginary swashbuckling fantasy "Don't run while you have asparagus in your hands. You'll poke someone's eye out."

Money Monster... Funny, edge of your seat thriller

MOVIE REVIEW

By Adam Staten

Las Vegas, or 'Sin City' as it's so affectionately called, is built entirely on gambling. Whether you've gone to Vegas and come out ahead or broke even, it's safe to bet the odds weren't in your favor. When it comes to the financial world, some would argue that's a crapshoot as well. An investor places money in the stock of a company with hopes of a future healthy dividend. That particular company could rise, fall or go bankrupt, no one can know for sure. But what if, much like Vegas, the odds were decidedly against the investor, with the house holding all the cards? The new film, Money Monster, looks at this very scenario.

Money Monster is the story of Lee Gates (George Clooney), the obnoxious, wise-cracking host of Money Monster, a financial program nearly identical to Jim Cramer's Mad Money. Julia Roberts plays the show's levelheaded producer, Patty. The film begins as Patty is giving Lee last-minute direction seconds before show time, that he promptly ignores. Soon after, Lee begins spouting off stock tips and things go awry - everyone in the studio is taken hostage by an angry investor, Kyle (Jack O'Connell), who's armed with a gun and a bomb attached to his vest.

Kyle, holding the gun inches away from Lee's temple, forces him to strap on the vest, then goes on profanity-laced tirades about recently loosing his entire life's savings in a company that Lee called 'a sure thing.' The game turns into a game of cat and mouse as Patty, Lee, and the cops outside the studio try to figure out how to get out of this tense situation, all while the cameras are still rolling.

While the storyline is not all that inventive or original, it does keep the audience on their toes. There are several plot twists sprinkled throughout that keep the film interesting and the dialog is a mixture of sly, witty dark humor. It might sound like an odd combination but the balance struck between the humor and tension is perfect.

George Clooney and Julia Roberts are terrific actors and they don't disappoint here. But the true standout is Jack O'Connell. Needless to say, Money Monster would not have worked without a strong performance from that role and he delivers. It's an honest depiction of a guy pushed to the edge with no other choices.

Money Monster definitely has a political message, and doesn't attempt to hide it. Whether you agree with it or not isn't likely to keep you from enjoying this well paced and edge of your seat thriller. 4.5 out of 5.

Father's Day 2016

"What advice or wisdom has your father shared with you that you believe will be most important to your future?"

Father's Day is just one day out of 365 to show our fathers appreciation for raising us and helping to shape us into who we are today! Though we try our best to appreciate Dad the whole year round, we sometimes lose track of all he's done for us. Take this Father's Day as an opportunity to show Dad how much you care with a genuine letter from you, personally!

Though we know it's difficult sharing all the wonderful things about your father in just one page, we ask that entries do not exceed one page or 300 words.

Elementary or middle school students from the following schools are eligible to submit one essay: Beech Grove, Center Grove, Franklin Township, Greenwood and Perry Township or if you attend a public, private, parochial or charter school in zip codes 46107, 46142, 46143, 46203, 46217, 46225, 46227, 46237 or 46239. Please include your name, age, grade, and school or home address on the letter as well. The three best entries will be selected and published in the June 16 issue of The Southside Times.

Deadline for submissions is May 20th

Mail or drop off your entry to:

Stop at The Lemon Drop

Daisy Troop 867 sets up Lemonade Day stand in front of The Southside Times office

EVENT

By Nicole Davis

The Lemon Drop Hut will feature lemonade and pink lemonades (raspberry and strawberry) with a Tahitian theme. Selling the beverages for $1 per cup, a group of 6-year-old girls will learn to run their own business on May 21, part of National Lemonade Day.

Girl Scout Daisy Troop 867, of Rosa Parks-Edison Elementary School, will set up its stand on May 21, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The Southside Times, 7670 U.S. 31 S., Indianapolis, near Stop 11 Road.

"It's a national day to help children build their customer service and entrepreneurship, to instill that in them," said Jeanne Peters, troop leader. "It helps them with their math. They have to take the money and give change. They have to create their own recipe. This year for Indianapolis Lemonade Day they're teaming with Susan G. Komen for the Cure so we're going to donate a portion of our proceeds to that organization."

Through Indianapolis Lemonade Day, indianapolis.lemonadeday.org, members of Daisy Troop 867 have had the opportunity to learn about financial literacy and philanthropy with workshop and soon with first-hand experience in running their own business.

The girls design their own business concept and will take turns running the stand throughout the day. To go along with their theme, they will dress in grass skirts and leis.

"The girls are really excited," Peters said. "This is their first year for it. I like this age group because anything you present to them is exciting."

Weekly Devotion

"Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also." ~ John 14:19

I thought about what Jesus said to His disciples in this verse. It is a part of the "I am going away for awhile but I will be back for you" passage found in the 14th chapter of John which also includes the 15th and 16th chapters. Jesus wants them to know that even though He will not physically be with them anymore in His present bodily form, He is not deserting them altogether. He promises them (and us) that He will never forsake us nor ever leave us to fight our battles alone. At this time of their experience with Christ, this is very important to the disciples. In a few hours they will be more than tempted to return to their lives as they were before they ever met Christ. He will be dead and buried and they will have lost every reason to continue the ministry and mission of Christ because, without Him they would not know how.

Christ only leaves for three days and these people are in a panic. On the third day He returns to them. For 40 days He comforts and encourages them to continue the fight for the souls of mankind. He and His church are continuing that fight to this very day.

People still believe or want to believe in that resurrection but it is hard because of all of the "ground clutter" their lives are surrounded with. The world will never see Jesus again but every eye shall behold Him in the end of time. Every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess that He is indeed the Lord of Lords and King of Kings.

I leave you with that this morning and pray that it will be your meditation throughout the day. We are not losing because our Lord is no loser.

God bless and go and have a great day.

Paul A. Kirby is the pastor at the Church of God at 3939 S. Emerson Ave.

How a Chicago Doctor Shook Up the Hearing Aid Industry with His Newest Invention

Nearly Invisible Digital Hearing Aid Costs 90% Less

Reported by J. Page

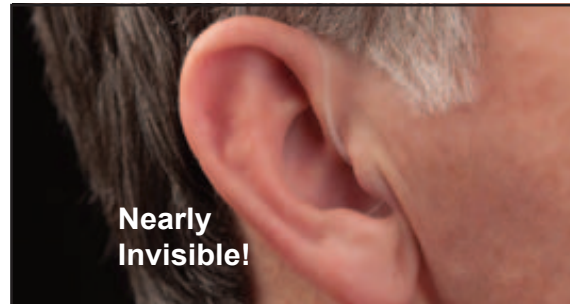

Chicago – Board-certified Ear, Nose, and Throat physician Dr. S. Cherukuri has done it once again with his newest invention of a medical-grade, ALL-DIGITAL, affordable hearing aid.

This new digital hearing aid is packed with all the features of $3,500 competitors at a mere fraction of the cost. Now, most people with hearing loss are able to enjoy crystal clear, natural sound — in a crowd, on the phone, in the wind — without suffering through “whistling” and annoying background noise.

Digital Hearing Aid Outperforms Expensive Competitors

This sleek, fully programmed, light-weight, hearing aid is the outgrowth of the digital revolution that is changing our world. While demand for “all things digital” caused most prices to plunge (consider DVD players and computers, which originally sold for thousands of dollars and today can be purchased for less), the cost of a digital medical-grade hearing aid remains out of reach.

Dr. Cherukuri knew that many of his patients would benefit but couldn't afford the expense for these new digital hearing aids. Generally they are not covered by Medicare and most private health insurance plans.

Nearly Invisible!

SAME FEATURES AS EXPENSIVE HEARING AID COMPETITORS

- ✓ Mini behind-the-ear hearing aid with thin tubing for a nearly invisible profile
- ✓ Advanced Noise Reduction to make speech clearer
- ✓ Feedback Cancellation eliminates whistling
- ✓ Wide Dynamic Range Compression makes soft sounds audible and loud sounds comfortable
- ✓ Telecoil setting for use with compatible phones, and looped environments like churches
- ✓ 3 Programs and Volume Dial accommodate most common types of hearing loss, even in challenging listening environments

The doctor evaluated the high-priced digital hearing aids on the market, broke them down to their base components, and then created his own affordable version — called the MDHearingAid® AIR for its virtually invisible, lightweight appearance.

Affordable Digital Technology

Using advanced digital technology, the MDHearingAid AIR automatically adjusts to your listening environment — prioritizing speech and de-emphasizing background noise. Experience all of the sounds you've been missing at a price you can afford. This doctor-designed and approved hearing aid comes with a full year's supply of long-life batteries. It delivers crisp, clear sound all day long and the soft flexible ear domes are so comfortable you won't realize you're wearing them.

Try It Yourself at Home 45-Day Risk-Free Trial

Of course, hearing is believing and we invite you to try it for yourself with our RISK-FREE 45-Day home trial. If you are not completely satisfied, simply return it within that time period for a full refund of your purchase price.

Can a Hearing Aid Delay or Prevent Dementia?

A study by Johns Hopkins and the National Institute on Aging suggests older individuals with hearing loss are significantly more likely to develop dementia over time than those who retain their hearing. They suggest that an intervention — such as a hearing aid — could delay or prevent dementia by improving hearing!

“Satisfied Buyers Agree, AIR Is the Best Digital Value!”

“I am hearing things I didn't know I was missing. Really amazing. I'm wearing them all the time.” — Linda I., Indiana

“Almost work too well. I am a teacher and hearing much better now.” — Lillian B., California

*“I have used many expensive hearing aids, some over $5,000. The *AIR*s have greatly improved my enjoyment of life.”* — Som Y., Michigan

“I would definitely recommend them to my patients with hearing loss.” — Amy S., Audiologist, Indiana
