Q: May is Military Appreciation Month; why do you appreciate our military?

"I appreciate the military because I served in the United States Army for four years and I've seen what those men and women do for our everyday lives. We are able to walk down the street and do the things that we do in our lives because they fight for us every day to make sure that we stay free. They are my brothers and sisters in arms. I appreciate them every single day."

Corie Smith of Greenwood

"I have a greater appreciation for the military because I have seen what military families go through. They sacrifice a lot. They spend a lot of time away from home, their kids, and their family. I'm just very appreciative of all they do. My husband is currently deployed."

Rachel Schmitt of Franklin Township

"They work from sun up to sun down and their pay is not always the greatest considering the many hours that they work. Their environment also isn't the safest. They worry about where they are at and keeping their head in the game, but they are also thinking about their families at home and missing watching their kids grow up."

Ashley Reynolds of Franklin Township

"I appreciate them because of the sacrifices they pay to protect our freedom. Some pay the ultimate sacrifice. Some are away from their families. The time they spend away protecting their families and the ones they love is the greatest debt they will ever pay."

Dylan Gregory of Whiteland

Roncalli senior Zach Smith recognized by Catholic Charities for his Spirit of Service

By Nicole Davis

Roncalli High School senior Zach Smith was recently awarded the Spirit of Service award at Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis dinner. The award recognizes him for his contributions to his community – but Zach continues to remain humble about the work he's done.

"There are a few things I don't count as service but could probably reason was service like the Anna's Celebration of Life youth board," Zach said. "I enjoy them too much. I don't see many causes as not important."

Zach, a Perry Township resident, was born with distal spinal muscular atrophy, and relies on crutches and his wheelchair to move around. His mother, Rebecca, said when he was younger, he tried to blend in with the crowd. He began taking scuba diving lessons and became certified at the Cayman Islands.

"He came back with more confidence," Rebecca said. "He says we're doing charity work, we're talking in front of people. To say he came out of his shell is an understatement."

Zach has participated in Beat the Challenge softball since he was four-years-old, and said that was a big opportunity for him as well. There, he met Anna Molloy, who passed away with Geleophysics Dysplasia in 2008. Her parents founded two organizations in her name: Anna's House and Anna's Celebration of Life Foundation, annascelebrationoflife.org. Zach joined Anna's Celebration of life on the youth board. Through that, he and seven other Roncalli students on the youth board helped to organize the Midnight Mile, a glow-stick run which benefits children with disabilities, which celebrated its second event on May 8.

"I really like the idea of being able to help those who have problems similar to mine," Zach said. "I'm very lucky I get to use my arms, but there are other people that aren't. Last year we raised $6,000. It was mostly with people I knew. It was nice having a sense of I actually helped do this. We made the idea pretty much from scratch."

Zach has also taken part in Roncalli's 4 Paws Club, the Euchre Club which visit St. Paul's Hermitage and Rebel Buddies. Zach will graduate this spring, and plans to get a job at the YMCA. He will volunteer with Vacation Bible School at St. Jude Catholic Church. He will attend Indiana University Purdue University – Indianapolis in the spring, concentrating on mechanical engineering.

Beech Grove City Schools thanks residents for their support

Beech Grove City Schools would like to thank the citizens of Beech Grove for the overwhelming voter turnout and support for the school's transportation and construction referendums. Because of this strong support, Beech Grove City Schools is able to continue to provide transportation to our students, update the performing arts space at the high school, replace HVAC in our buildings, and increase student safety throughout the District.

I would specifically like to thank the many residents, both parents and non-parents, and our staff, administrators and teachers – who worked together to communicate our needs on numerous walks across our great city! Many others took time to make calls to our voters to ask for their support and remind them to vote on May 5. Jill Laker, our Volunteer Coordinator, and Harvey Warrner, our PAC Chair, was key to our success.

Many thanks to all of the homeowners and businesses who placed signs in their yard or in a window, to show their support for Beech Grove City Schools and its students and staff. It was a wonderful encouragement to all of us to see so many orange and black signs posted throughout the city.

We believe that strong schools contribute to making our city stronger, so thank you for helping to make this happen. It's a great day to be a Hornet!

*Dr. Paul A. Kaiser, Superintendent
Beech Grove City Schools*

Beech Grove construction projects underway

I would like to update everyone on some current construction projects that are wrapping up and a couple that soon will begin. The reconstruction of sanitary and storm water drains at 9th and Buffalo will soon be completed. What a major improvement for this area of our city.

Work is almost complete at Hartman Park, the home to Beech Grove Little League. New storm water drains were installed and the parking lot was paved. This is a major improvement in infrastructure.

At the last Board of Works meeting, the Board approved Midwest Paving to reconstruct Bellfontaine Street from Emerson Avenue west to 9th Avenue. Within 45 days work is set to begin. This project calls for the removal of the road, the installation of a new base, paving, stripping, handicapped ramps and the installation of alley approaches. We can all agree that this is one of the worst roads in our city and we all know that we have several.

This summer we will begin the process of separating the combined sewer system on Grovewood Drive by separating drains at Grovewood Drive and Grovewood Place and lining existing sewers in that area. Over the next three years, much work will take place in this area to correct existing sanitary sewer issues and to address drainage in this area. Please be patient with us as we make our city better.

Now that the weather is nice, you may think about making some improvements to your property. If you live in Beech Grove and you want to hire someone to work on your property, please contact us at 784-3003 to check to see if they are licensed in the City. If you hire someone to work on your property, depending on what you want them to do they have to be licensed and bonded with the city. Please check with us first and do not give them any money before you have the chance to check them out. Earlier this week I spent time with a citizen who was taken advantage of and we don't want this to happen to anyone else. Contractors are required to be licensed and bonded if they conduct business in our city and permits are required for most construction projects. These are safe guards for your protection.

*Dennis B. Buckley, Mayor
City of Beech Grove*

OUR VIEW

Southside: Show your appreciation for the badge

The Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department Southeast District's Annual Community day will be held on May 15 at 10 a.m. at Garfield Park, 2432 Conservatory Dr. The Community Day allows for local residents and community members to "meet and greet" the officers that serve our district. Not only will there be free food and prizes—there may also be K-9, SWAT, Air Patrol and Bomb Units on site to show off some of the police gear they use to keep our communities safe. Stop by and meet the men and women in blue of the Southeast District. Their lives are on the line every day—in Hattiesburg, Miss., Officers Benjamin Deen and Liquori Tate were shot and killed on May 9 during what was supposed to be a routine traffic stop.

For those wanting to give back to our local law enforcement, the Beech Grove Police Department is holding a blood drive to honor fallen officers. The drive will take place at the Beech Grove Police Department, 340 Churchman Ave., or the fire station, from 8 to 11 a.m. on May 16—which also happens to be Armed Forces Day.

Join us in thanking those who sacrifice so much to keep our communities safe.

So, does Christie have a backbone?

There was a time when we actually believed Gov. Chris Christie (R-N.J.) would make a fine presidential candidate. And then came Super Storm Sandy a few years back. President Barack Obama showing up on a wind-ravaged boardwalk, Christie at his side, pledging help to rebuild the Jersey Shore, followed that. It was a great and noble gesture, the president's appearance and promise. It also was important. And then they shared a quick hug. Sure, it was in the emotion of the moment, but that's when Christie seemed to lose his backbone (endemic of the Republican Party across this great nation). He was, in the moment, being a great governor, though. And then came Bridge Gate and a blown opportunity. When challenged, if he was as innocent as he claims, then why didn't he go Christie on the media and critics? Very strange. The larger picture will show that he lost, and probably won't regain, the pointed bluster for which he was known. Too bad. Perhaps because the party isn't necessarily giving him a second look that it's a signal he still may be a viable candidate.

America needs a president that can stand in the gap, kick butts and take names, and he appeared to be that person. The question is this: Is it too late for him to become a phoenix? We wish we knew. The Daily Beast last week wrote Christie "is planning, over the course of the next few weeks ... to deliver a series of policy speeches on various topics... Still, there's no telling whether his attempt to change the conversation will work." We'll be interested to see how it all shakes out, but in our view it probably will be a case of too little too late.

Beep Baseball comes to Southport Park

FEATURE

By Nicole Davis

The Southport Lions Club will bring Beep Baseball to Southport Park, 6901 Derbyshire Rd., on May 16, 1 p.m. Indiana-based teams Indy Thunder and RHI Extreme will compete in a scrimmage game.

"Hopefully we'll get a lot of people out and bring awareness to the sport of Beep Baseball," said Darnell Booker, founder of the Indy Thunder, team manager and pitcher. "We're looking forward to doing this scrimmage game and let people that have never seen Beep baseball to get a taste of what Beep baseball is like."

Beep Baseball is a game for players who are blind or visually impaired. With everyone having varying degrees of blindness, the players wear a blindfold so everyone is on equal playing grounds. "You will see good hitting, base running," Booker said. "The difference is you are pitching to your own team. The other team is in the field playing defense with six players at a time. You get four strikes instead of three. There are only two bases: first and third. Like regular baseball and softball there are three outs. Everything is by sound."

Booker said his team has had a good partnership with the Southport Lions Club in the past, so when the Lions asked them to do an exhibition game, he said they were happy to travel to the city. His team is based in Broad Ripple, although he said there are a few players who reside on the Southside.

Admission to the game is free. The Lions will sell concessions while the baseball teams accept donations. Booker said his team is currently trying to raise money to travel to compete in the Beep Baseball World Series in New York.

Strange rumblings at St. Francis

HAUNTS & JAUNTS

By Rick Hinton

Can hospitals retain the residue of those that passed within their walls? Apparently the former St. Francis Hospital in Beech Grove has.

One employee—lets call him Ken—had many experiences while working in the original section of the building. On the second floor surgery wing he had his clothes and hair frequently pulled as he made his rounds. Sometimes it was just a gentle caress. There was, however, an incident where he did panic and ran after being aggressively pushed on the shoulder. Another was a door suddenly slamming in his face as he made his way from surgery to a newer section of the building.

On the third floor he witnessed a stack of papers fly across the room—lifting one at a time sequentially. In various locations on this floor he was engulfed in cold spots as the temperature suddenly plummeted. Once while waiting for an elevator Ken wind milled his arms, testing the cold spots surrounding him. A long time nurse came upon him and simply commented... "Don't do that, we know they're here."

While Ken was on vacation a girl covering his shift abruptly quit. He states bluntly... "People here have had encounters, particularly in the overnight hours. It's not something they're going to bring up to management. They want to keep their job!" On one occasion when a nurse did bring up the strange occurrences to a sister, the sister raised her hand to stop the conversation and said... "Just let it be."

I was born in St. Francis Hospital. I had always wanted to visit the maternity ward where I came into this world. A few years back I did. It was no longer maternity, but a restricted area. Wearing a pair of slacks and a dress shirt I grabbed a clipboard and strolled through as if I belonged there. The tiled walls were the same as they had been in the late 1950s, and somewhere along my journey I am sure to have passed the very room I was born in. I felt a sense of completion. And of course...there was a walk through the empty hallways of the basement level, with all roads leading to the morgue.

Whatever lingers at the former hospital building in Beech Grove appears willing to interact. Possibly it is too a mixture of playbacks from the past...of those who have come and gone over the years. The building and/or grounds will be put to other uses as Beech Grove moves forward, yet the spirits likely will remain behind.

CINDY'S DREAM COME TRUE!

Greenwood resident Cindy Ely shares of her inspiration to graduate college later in life in the newly-released book Chicken Soup for the Soul: Time to Thrive

COVER STORY

By Nicole Davis

One chance encounter can change your life.

In the early 2000s, Cindy Ely, was working as a Title I Tutor at Clinton Young Elementary in Perry Township. Angie Artis, the principal at the time, asked Ely to attend a state reading conference at the Convention Center in downtown Indianapolis. Grace Corrigan was scheduled to be the event's main speaker. Corrigan is the mother of Christa McAuliffe, the first teacher to be sent into space, who perished with six other astronauts when the space shuttle Challenger exploded in 1986.

After Ely arrived, she briefly left the conference to find a restroom. Along the way, she spotted a lady in a white suit, sitting there.

"I poked my head in and said 'are you ok?'" Ely said, "She said, Come on in, I'm fine, just gathering my thoughts."

The two started talking, and the lady asked Ely a series of questions about her family, job, children and grandchildren.

"We got on the subject of me going back to college. She told me I need to do that. I said 'yeah, but I'm in my early 50s and I'm nervous.' She said it's a wide, wide world out there and if this is one of your dreams, you have to seek this adventure... As she was leaving, she said seriously, you need to think about this."

When Ely returned to her friend at the conference, she told her about the encounter, but that she never got the lady's name.

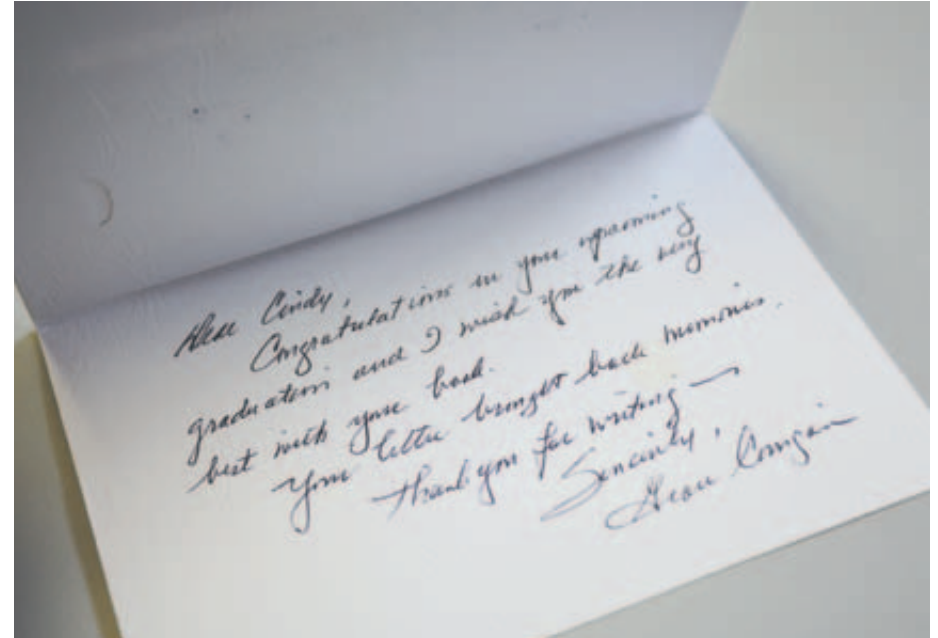

The emcee got on the stage to introduce the main speaker, Corrigan, who happened to be the lady in the white suite.

"She was fabulous," Ely said. "She didn't talk about the Challenger or the explosion. She talked about her daughter and how she lived. Afterwards I bought a book and brought it with me. She signed it. She said 'you have to track your adventure. I want to know when you get that college degree.'"

Ely said she was excited when she got home, and called her husband, Howard, who was at work as a teacher with Perry Township schools. After some online research, he proposed that Ely attend Saint Mary-of-the-Woods College in Terre Haute. She enrolled and took a couple classes each semester while continuing to work full-time.

"My last few classes, I thought about quitting," Ely said. "We have a huge family. They wouldn't let me. I said 'this is getting too hard.' My husband would be a big cheerleader and say 'you can do this.' Everyone, my kids and grandkids, would send me notes and phone calls. My older sister was there. I had a great support system."

Ely graduated with honors in 2007 with a degree in professional writing. She was able to obtain Corrigan's address and sent her a card, informing her of her graduation and giving a thank you. Corrigan sent back a card with a photo of the Challenger astronauts on the front. "Your letter brought back memories," Corrigan wrote.

Grace Corrigan sent Ely a card congratulating her on her graduation. Cindy Ely said whenever she felt like quitting college, her large family was by her side encouraging her to stick with it. Photo by Nicole Davis

Ely wrote about the story of that encounter with Corrigan and submitted it to Chicken Soup for the Soul. She was told that the publishing company would keep her story on file. A few years later, she received another email informing her of the selection.

"I was nervous when I opened the email. I carefully scrolled down. It said 'Dear Cindy,' and the very first word in italics said 'Congratulations.' I was overwhelmed."

Her story is published in Chicken Soup for the Soul: Time to Thrive, by Amy Newmark & Loren Slocum Lahav, featuring "101 inspiring stories about growth, wisdom, and dreams." The book was released on May 5.

Now that Ely is a published writer, she said she hopes that will help her with getting a children's book published that she is writing and a friend and teacher is illustrating. Ely retired from Perry Township schools in 2011, where she finished her career as an assistant for students with special needs. She resides in Center Grove and said she's enjoyed spending the extra time with her grandchildren and family.

She credits the accomplishment of graduating and her published story to her experience in speaking with Corrigan and the support of her family.

"I might have gone to college if I had not of had that conversation with her. I don't know," Ely said. "It was not an easy job being an older woman, working full time, having a large family and going to college at the same time. But I'm telling you, it can be done if you have the support and the strong will. I've decided that I can do about anything I wanted to do."

Getting to know Cindy...

- I've been a professional storyteller. I registered with Indiana Arts Commission to be a professional storyteller, traveling all over to tell stories. I've worked with teachers to talk about children's books and creative ways to do book reports with children in the classroom.
- I love to latch hook.
- I'm a 1969 Southport High School graduate.
- I'm a mystery reader. You send in five things about yourself and the teacher each day gives a clue about that person and the kids try to guess who it might be. At the end of the week, you come in and read to them.

James Trimble

GPD officer patrols the streets of Greenwood, not too far from his Southside hometown

BEHIND the BADGE

As a patrol officer for the Greenwood Police Department, James "Mitch" Trimble says his goal is to help contribute to a safer community for his family. Growing up in Franklin Township, he would work with his father at Wana-maker Feed & Seed.

"When I worked for my dad, it really upset me when he'd get stolen from," Trimble said. "I want to keep my family safe and hopefully, keep those thieves from other businesses and from hardworking people that don't deserve it."

Trimble says he enjoys working for the Greenwood department, where residents are usually appreciative of their law enforcement officers. He was hired in 2011.

"I wanted to be in a small department but big enough it wouldn't be boring," Trimble said. "I was very lucky that Greenwood was the only department I put in for and I got it. I wanted to be in a department where you could to know everybody and get police action."

Trimble was named Officer of the Year in 2013. He now resides in Johnson County with his wife and son.

What was your inspiration to become a police officer?

My father owns a small business. He's owned it almost 40 years. I worked there for 10 years and I knew I wanted to do my own thing. I wanted something that was more than a job. With my temperament, I knew I would be a good police officer.

What has been one of your most gratifying moments on the job?

A rewarding moment, we had a man that was very impaired, in the wee hours of the morning. We looked in his truck and we could see he had a child by the stuff: a car seat, toys. We got to thinking, what is this guy doing out? I went down a few houses and found a young child curled in the fetal position, freezing. Luckily, she wasn't there too long. We took her to the hospital. No harm was done with her. She was fine, but luckily we found her because her father had no idea where she was.

James "Mitch" Trimble

What aspect of the job do you find most challenging?

Staying cautious and aware at all times. It's real easy to get complacent and lazy. That's being very unsafe for you and everyone you are trying to protect. Being aware at all times, it's hard to do. It's very mentally draining. When you're on duty, there is no break. Even when you're off duty, you're still a police officer; you're still paying attention.

What do you enjoy doing in your off-time?

I love being outside. I love playing with my son, three dogs and spending time with my wife. I love being around my house, being outdoors and enjoying my family.

What are your future goals, professionally or personally?

Professionally, I believe eventually I would like to be a sergeant then a lieutenant. I try to take obtainable goals that are in the near future. Personally, I'd like to continue to be a good father and husband.

ther and husband.

What would you have done if you hadn't of become a police officer?

I'd be working with my dad or in a small business.

Thank you for supporting Indiana's greatest support system: family caregivers.

More than one million Hoosiers care for older parents or loved ones, helping them to live independently in their own homes. These family caregivers have a huge responsibility, and now there's support in place that will make a world of difference for them.

With recent passage of the Caregiver Advise, Record, Enable (CARE) Act, a patient admitted to the hospital may now list the name of his or her caregiver – and specify that the caregiver be kept informed about changes in the patient's health care status. This includes when the patient is to be discharged to another facility or sent home, and any medical tasks the caregiver will need to perform once the patient returns home.

AARP Indiana went to work at the capitol to make this kind of support a reality, because supporting caregivers is a top priority for us all.

AARP Indiana thanks Senator Pat Miller for her work on and support of the CARE Act.

Share your thanks with Senator Miller. Visit action.aarp.org/INCAREact today.

Limitless TV spinoff

Earlier this week, CBS announced that not only would there be a television series following the events of the 2011 critically acclaimed Limitless, but also that Bradley Cooper would have a recurring role throughout the series. The story follows Brian Sinclair (Jake McDorman) who uses the nootropic drug NZT to help solve crimes for the FBI. Unknown to the FBI, however, are Sinclair's ties to Eddie Morra (Bradley Cooper) who is now a U.S. senator with his sights on the White House. Other stars include Dexter's Jennifer Carpenter, CSI: NY's Hill Harper and Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio (who is best known for her role in '80s classics like Scarface and The Color of Money). The show, also titled Limitless, will air on Tuesdays at 10 p.m. EST on CBS.

Far From The Madding Crowd... definitely worth a look

MOVIE REVIEW

By Adam Staten

Since this year's mega blockbuster film, The Avengers: Age of Ultron, has already hit theaters, every other movie that follows will have to fight and scrap for any and every dollar at the box office. One of those films to follow the Marvel hit fits neatly in both of those ever-popular categories Hollywood likes to dip into for nearly every movie; remakes and based on a book. The new film, Far From The Madding Crowd, hits theaters in the Indianapolis area this week.

Far From The Madding Crowd is based on the Thomas Hardy novel of the same name and a remake of a 1967 film. Flash forward almost 50 years and 2015 gives us another film of the same name. Far From The Madding Crowd is a period piece set on the countryside in Victorian England. Our main character, Bathsheba Everdene, is struggling to make ends meet as a small farm owner when, out of nowhere, her life instantly changes.

Bathsheba's unseen and unnamed rich, farm-owning uncle unexpectedly dies and leaves his entire estate to Bathsheba. Bathsheba immediately assumes ownership of her deceased uncle's farm and begins shaking things up much to the chagrin of the local farmhands and fellow farm owners. Nevertheless, Bathsheba's independent spirit and beauty attracts the attention of several men.

Even though this film and the films based on the work of Nicholas Sparks would fall in the same genre, they could not be more different. The story is a thousand times better and more interesting than anything the mind of Nicholas Sparks has or could ever conceive. The characters are extremely well-developed and drawn; there is no cheesy, embarrassing dialogue, and the performances are outstanding from the entire cast.

As strong as the performances are, Michael Sheen, who plays William Boldwood, stands out from amongst the rest. In each and every scene he appears, he steals the show.

My only criticism is that Carey Mulligan is miscast. She often looks out of place and uncomfortable. Essentially, Far From The Madding Crowd is a romance film. There is the beautiful woman that has men pulling out the wit, charm and extravagant displays of affection and there is the ever-present will they or won't they factor at work. However, Far From The Madding Crowd is not your average, run-of-the-mill romance/love story.

Worth a look. 3.5 out of 5.

Adam Staten lives in Perry Township and is a movie buff. Staten graduated from University of Southern Indiana with a degree in Communication Studies.

WHERE WE DINE

Edward McDonald, Republican candidate for Beech Grove Mayor

Where do you like to dine? Napoli Villa Italian Restaurant in Beech Grove and Firehouse Subs on Emerson Avenue.

What do you like to eat there? All the food at Napoli Villa is excellent. At Fireside Subs, I like the Hook and Ladder. It is one of the best subs I've ever had.

What do you like about these places? I like to go to Napoli Villa for several reasons. First it is near my house. It reminds me of old-fashioned Italian cooking, and it has a comfortable atmosphere. The food is excellent of course. At Firehouse Subs I feel like I am eating healthy. That is important since retiring from the Army I've gained about 40 pounds.

Firehouse Subs is located at 4576 S Emerson Ave. in Indianapolis. The phone number is (317) 782-9149. Napoli Villa Italian Restaurant is located at 758 Main St. in Indianapolis. The phone number is (317) 783-4122.

GOVERNMENT WATCHDOG

Greenwood Common Council

Meeting, May 6

■ What happened? Ordinance No. 15-21 was introduced as an item of new business; the ordinance would amend Greenwood Municipal Code to "account for two Deputy Chiefs of Police."

■ What it means: If passed, this ordinance would allow for the Commission to appoint two Deputy Chiefs of Police instead of the current one. Other appointed members of the Police Department (the Chief and Assistant Chief) will remain unchanged, and Greenwood Municipal Code (1993), Chapter 6, Article 12, Section 6-381, will reflect the changes.

■ What's next: The council will vote on the ordinance at its next regularly scheduled meeting, May 18, at the Greenwood City Center, 300 South Madison Ave., at 7 p.m.

In brief...

• Greenwood's 31st annual Freedom Festival will take place on Saturday, June 27. If you have a request regarding vendors, the street fair, entertainment or anything else, visit greenwood.in.gov.

AROUND TOWN

I-69 Section 6 hosts public meetings

The Indiana Department of Transportation will host two public meetings in the coming weeks to share information and collect public comment on the transportation needs and route alternatives being considered in the environmental-impact study for Interstate 69 from Martinsville to Indianapolis, known formally as Section 6. The first meeting will take place on May 18 at Center Grove North Middle School, 202 N. Morgantown Rd. in Greenwood. Doors will open at 5:30 p.m. with an open house session, followed by a formal presentation and public comment session in the auditorium at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will cover two important project topics: the draft purpose and need and conceptual alternatives. The draft purpose and need describes the transportation-related needs that the project is designed to address. It establishes the basis for developing a range of reasonable alternatives in the environmental-impact study and assists in the identification and eventual selection of a preferred alternative. The conceptual alternatives being considered for the project are based upon INDOT project-team analysis of the feedback previously collected from the public and resource agencies in February 2015. We've done the shopping for you

At Simplicity Funeral & Cremation Care we believe the value of a funeral or memorial service is not measured by how much it costs, but how much it means to the families we serve.

Simplicity offers quality facilities, convenient locations, staffed with licensed, professional and experienced funeral directors. We offer quality American made caskets. We keep prices low by eliminating unnecessary overhead expenses traditional funeral homes carry.

The chart compares the prices of the area's major funeral homes; families that select Simplicity Funeral & Cremation Care will save thousands on a typical, traditional funeral. But they'll have the lasting memory of a fitting tribute.

Why cruise with the family?

Submitted by Gretchen O'Brien at The Travel Authority Shelbyville

Cruises are truly a great multi-generational vacation because there are plenty of things for everyone to do their own thing.

The specific amenities depend on the ship, of course, so you'll want to choose the ship as much as—or maybe more than—the destinations. You will, after all, be on the ship longer than you will be in any of the ports so you'll want to ensure you find the cruise that has what your family likes.

The good news is that this won't be a challenge because the ships are designed to appeal to so many tastes and desires. If swimming and sunning yourself is on the agenda, you won't be disappointed by the gorgeous pools onboard.

If shopping is your thing, no worry! There is plenty of it both on ship and off, and often there is a person on ship whose responsibility it is to inform passengers of the 'off ship' deals and specials. Check the television in the cabin, there is probably an entire channel dedicated to the shopping at the next port!

If you're looking for something a little bit more adventurous, many ships have a rock climbing wall or a zip line, and of course, the off ship excursions often include options for snorkeling, scuba diving, and hiking.

Ahhh, the shows. The shows are virtually endless and there is bound to be something for everyone in your family. From magic shows to ice shows to water shows to vaudeville style reviews and plain old concerts and musicals - there's a fun evening lined up after dinner.

You might very well end up seeing your family at breakfast and dinner with everyone going their separate ways in between. It's a family vacation, where everyone in the family can kick back and just be themselves.

Spotlight on your IN State Parks and Inns

FEATURE

Submitted By Indiana State Park Inns

McCormick's Creek, Clifty Falls and Spring Mill are three of the most scenic, historic and iconic state parks in Indiana. The distinctive inn at each park offers the opportunity to enjoy the surrounding wonders before retiring to cozy comfort in a rustic setting. Each inn's restaurant features family dining for all meals.

McCormick's Creek

McCormick's Creek, home of Canyon Inn, was Indiana's first state park. The limestone canyon, flowing creek, and waterfalls make for eye-catching hiking. Other features include diverse forest trees, spicebush and native wildflowers, as well as a trail through Wolf Cave Nature Preserve. An accessible nature trail surrounds the recently renovated nature center. The inn, which is built on the original foundation of a sanitarium constructed in 1916, features an outdoor pool.

Clifty Falls

Clifty Falls, home of Clifty Inn, features four main waterfalls that change moods with the weather and seasons. They range from roaring plunges to delicate bridal-veil mists to gleaming frozen titans. When water is light in the summer, the rugged geological splendor of Clifty Canyon steals the show. Clifty Creek's stony bed is littered with fossil remnants telling of a long-vanished marine ecosystem. The inn features an indoor pool and a bird's-eye view of the Ohio River and the historic town of Madison.

Spring Mill

Spring Mill, home of Spring Mill Inn, mixes natural and man-made attractions. Caves and the flow from several cave springs led to the founding of an industrial village on site in the early 1800s. The Pioneer Village gives visitors a taste of life during that time period. The Twin Caves boat tour and Donaldson Cave highlight the area's unique geology. Hikes through Donaldson's Woods show off virgin timber forest. The Gus Grissom Museum honors the astronaut who grew up in nearby Mitchell. The inn features an indoor/outdoor pool and game room.

BEECH GROVE

Gabriela Rosales-White named to Music City Drum and Bugle Corps

Gabriela Rosales-White has been accepted as a Color Guard member in the Music City Drum and Bugle Corps for the 2015 season. Her parents, Steven and Shelley White wrote "Music City will be taking the field this summer with Drum Corps International's elite during a tour that will take them throughout an eight state area with a completion of the season at Lucas Oil Stadium for DCI's World Class Finals, Aug. 6-8. The Corps is under the direction of David Boggs, former member of the Cavaliers; he has taught at both Indiana University and Purdue University, and is the marching band director for McKendree University in Illinois.

"Not only is this an opportunity of a lifetime for Gabriela to march drum corps during her Senior year of high school, this also a chance to utilize a scholarship program to attend McKendree University. Gabriela has worked hard for the last eight seasons for the Beech Grove Marching Hornets and Winter Guard. She will tour this summer, repre-sending Beech Grove, 'With Pride!' Gabriela will be inducted into the National Honor Society in May 14 and has maintained high honors with a current GPA of 3.79. She also is a member of the National Technical Honor Society through Central Nine Career Center.

"As most of you know, this a quite an accomplishment, but one that comes with fees. If you are able to donate to her experience and color guard education, go to musiccity-drumcorps.org, select at the top of the page 'Sponsor A Member' and follow the instructions to help her start the next phase of her exciting journey. PayPal account registration is not needed, as payment can be made by selecting the 'Pay with debit or credit card' option. Any and all donations would be greatly appreciated. Thank You!"

Sugar Grove's Swartz wins Optimist Club speech contest

Chayleigh Swartz, a fourth grade student at Sugar Grove Elementary, won the Optimist Club of 500 West-Indianapolis's speech contest. Her speech was based on the theme "How My Optimism Will Help Me Press on to Greater Achievements of the Future?"

Swartz received the Optimist Oratorical Gold Medal and $250 for the honor. In addition, she will be move on to zone level where she will compete against winners from other Optimist Clubs in the area. The winner of the zone competition advances to the district level where there is an opportunity to win a scholarship.

Center Grove honors top 20 seniors

Center Grove High School honored the top 20 students in the class of 2015 on May 7 at the school's first Top Twenty Banquet.

"We have many students who have demonstrated outstanding academic performance during their high school careers," said Doug Bird, Center Grove High School principal. "We are starting this new tradition to give those students the opportunity to be recognized, along with the teachers who inspired them along the way."

The students were each given the opportunity to invite one elementary or middle school teacher and one high school teacher who inspired them during their academic career. The students spoke about those teachers during the program. Students are Chase Bettner, Joshua Martin, Joseph Chamberlin, Jack Mehling, Myranda Grismore, Lawrence Murphy, Jessica Hornback, Allison Nevil, Mark Legault, Kaveet Pandya, Joseph Lenkey, Austin Peters, Eva Li, Darbi Ruff, Allison Line, Victoria Long, Julie Simon, Kaitlin Whiteside.

St. Barnabas teachers to join Trusty Family STEM Teaching Fellows

STEM Days have been a part of the St. Barnabas School curriculum this year. Now four St. Barnabas School teachers have been selected as part of the inaugural cohort of Trusty STEM Teaching Fellows at the University of Notre Dame. After the application process, the team from St. Barnabas was one of 10 teams from eight states selected – 35 teachers in all. The Trusty Family STEM Teaching Fellows is a unique, competitive, and formative program focused on increasing student interest and learning in STEM disciplines (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) through the support and growth of high-quality STEM teachers. The fully-funded program will allow Math and Science teachers Doug Bauman, Autumn Scheer, Ryan Schnarr, and Megan Burnett to spend part of the next two summers at Notre Dame learning more about teaching these disciplines and bringing their learning back to all St. Barnabas teachers.

Search Specialists at Greenwood Elementary School demonstrate the talents of search and rescue dogs

Kinkade took a day off from her job as a teacher at Greenwood Elementary School in Greenwood, Indiana. She noticed a book about a search and rescue dog on the desk. Chester's dog Sadie looks like she was trained with Kinkade – and she's a search and rescue dog from the K-9 Search Specialists.

The group could do a presentation at the school. Kinkade happily accepted. She read the book to the entire third grade so that they could have a presentation. Chester, Co-Founder of the K-9 Search Specialists, and Gail Cramer came to the school on May 11 along with their dogs, Sadie (Belgian malinois) and Cassie (Australian Shepherd).

"It was a great book we just read," Kinkade said. "It was a great account. They asked great questions about the book they read. And how often do you bring dogs into the school?" She explained to the students how he could find his ball, which was hidden inside of the gym bleachers. Cassie showed that she, too, could find the hidden ball and then demonstrated a variety of tricks she can do such as sitting, playing dead, dancing and jumping through a hula hoop. Sadie's task for the day was to find 9-year-old student, Corey Bentz, who hid on the opposite side of the room. Sadie smelled Bentz's shoes and followed the scent.

"I liked it," said Bentz, who often goes to the Greenwood Public Library to read to the dogs there. "I like the dogs. They are my favorite animal. They're better than cats because cats just stink and make messes around your house. Dogs can swim and cats cant. If you're drowning they can go right after you."

Have you ever invented anything? Inventors notice a problem, then figure out a way to fix it. Sometimes inventors have a brand new idea and sometimes they combine other people's ideas with their own. Please excuse me now. It's time to practice my "Ollie."

Inventors Change Our Lives!

Read the clues to fill in the puzzle:

1. Thomas Edison developed over 1,000 inventions. He is most famous for the light bulb, but he also invented the _____, which has become popular again.
2. A team of inventors working for the U.S. Department of Defense created the Global _____ System, a tool to find your way using satellites!
3. Marie Curie was the first woman to receive the Nobel Prize. Her work helped us to understand _____ and the effects of X-rays. She has an element named after her - Curium.
4. Louis Braille, blinded in an accident at three years old, created a system of _____ and writing by using raised dots that people could feel with their fingers.
5. Orville and Wilbur Wright owned a bicycle shop. They experimented with flying machines. Their plane (trial flights at Kitty Hawk, N.C.) was the basis for the _____ we have today.
6. Francis Robbins Upton helped to keep us safe from fire by inventing the smoke _____.
7. Alec Jeffreys changed the court system when he invented DNA _____.
8. Leonardo da Vinci, the artist who painted the Mona Lisa, was also talented at sculpting, engineering and inventing. He had ideas for a helicopter, a _____ and a diving suit.
9. Martin Cooper improved on the invention of Alexander Graham Bell with the _____, widely used to communicate today.
10. George Washington Carver was born into slavery, but he became a botanist who developed over 300 uses for _____ and many ideas for sweet potatoes and pecans.
11. Ben Franklin was known for experimenting and inventing many things. He had trouble seeing so he designed a _____ for eyeglasses that helped him see near and far.
12. Alexander Graham Bell, whose mother and wife were deaf, is famous for creating the _____ and working on other inventions that help people communicate.

Iguanodon

Fun Facts from National Geographic

"Iguanodon was the first dinosaur identified by a scientist more than 180 years ago. Workers in a British forest brought its fossil teeth to a local doctor, Gideon Mantell. Iguanodon was a heavy plant eater, with leg bones built to support its bulk. Its hands had three strong middle fingers, and its wrist bones were joined together for extra strength. Its peculiar thumb spike was set off to the side, which would have been useful for stabbing predators or cutting plants. Its fifth finger was small. It might have been more easily moved to hold food that Iguanodon's other fingers could not grasp alone. This dinosaur ran on two legs. On its hind legs, Iguanodon had three short, thick toes that were probably padded. The foot pads would help spread the animal's weight so it could walk comfortably."

Nativity preschool celebrates dads

Since Father's Day falls during summer vacation, Franklin Township's Nativity Catholic School preschool celebrated an Honorary Father's Day. Dads were the special guests and spent time with their children making surprises, wearing unique hats, eating a pretzel snack and drinking root beer at an indoor picnic.

Giennie Dunn, preschool teacher, said "Remembering that Our Father in Heaven is the one who leads us, we want to celebrate our Fathers who are leading us and showing us the way to live. What an awesome day it was! Words cannot explain the bond that we see with our kiddos and their dads."

St. Barnabas is Four Star

St. Barnabas Catholic School was named a Four Star School by the Indiana Department of Education. To achieve this designation, a school must be in the top 25th percentile of schools in two ISTEP-based categories.

Additionally, a qualifying school must have earned an "A" in the state's accountability system and be accredited by the Indiana Department of Education.

SSFC students place at Math Pentathlon

At the tournament, every student played each of the five strategic math board games they had learned against different opponents from schools throughout Indiana and Ohio. Rylee Tolliver, Wyatt Meyers, Elijah Karres, Wyatt Breeden, Baylee Tolliver and Anthony Cuadros earned medals or honorable mention for winning three or more of their games. Rylee Tolliver was one of only four students out of the more than 250 participants who earned the Gold Medal Hall of Fame award by virtue of winning all five of his games. Rylee's name will be recorded in the Math Pentathlon Institute's permanent record of recipients of this award. Parents Anne Wolf, Tom Quinlin, Jill Levine, and Andrea Wolf have assisted throughout the school year with our after school math club for these students. The following students were recognized at the tournament for their accomplishments. Kindergarten, Ben Fase – Pentathlete; Elijah Karres - Bronze Medal; Ben Levine – Pentathlete; Gretchen Meisberger – Pentathlete; First Grade Emmett Burkhart – Pentathlete; Wyatt Breeden - Honorable Mention; Anthony Cuadros - Honorable Mention; Wyatt Meyers - Bronze Medal; Kaelin Quinlin – Pentathlete; Aiden Sargent – Pentathlete; Baylee Tolliver - Honorable Mention; and Rylee Tolliver - Gold Medal Hall of Fame.

Southport springs to life at festival

The Southport Spring Festival which took place May 9 had 77 vendors, a large crowd and expanded activities such as a pie contest, motorcycle show, pet parade and more. Many festival-goers say they're already looking forward to the next event.

"This is our first time at the street festival," said Brandi Wood who brought her son, Mason. "We've had a really good time. We loved the little motorcycles. Next year we will enter our dog into the parade. It's nice because it's not overwhelming. It's small enough to see everything but there's plenty to do."

Activities included live entertainment, an art contest provided by SoArts and a Kids Zone where children could play games for $0.25.

"The Southport Spring Festival was an amazing, fun-filled, activity-packed day for everyone," said parks board member and event organizer, Linda Banta. "From the artists set-up creating art in the park, to the children riding Bob's Bumpy Barrels and Tiny Tots Motorcycle Experience, to the yummy and large variety of food, to the large variety the vendor booths and the sweet Pet Parade and Contest, it the just the Greatest Spring Day in Southport. Thank you to Everyone who made it happen."

One new activity was the pie contest, judged by Darlene Jensen of Greenwood, owner Kim Hightower and pastry chef Matt Steinbronn from Kim's Kakery, Bakery and Café. Marylynne Winslow won first place for her Black Cherry Pie and the award for "Most Like Grandmas" with her Crusty Coconut pie. Trudy Bell won second prize for her Cherry Berry pie.

With May being Motorcycle Awareness Month, Southport Mayor Jesse Testruth gave a proclamation while Southport Pet Hospital owner Ron Baumgartner and Police Chief Thomas Vaughn discussed motorcycle safety and awareness. Through Southside Harley-Davidson's JUMP-START program, children could ride a real, small-sized motorcycle with training wheels and helmets through Tiny Tots Motorcycle Experience.

"It was a wonderfully fun day," said Stephanie Johnson, a Cub Scout Master for Cub Scout Pack 499 at Southport Presbyterian Church. She brought nine. "I love all of these events at Southport. They're always family-friendly and a good time for everyone."

Throw your hat in the ring

GRAMMAR GUY

By Jordan Fischer

I allowed myself to stray briefly into a political discussion this week, and an expression came up that I've used frequently without ever wondering about its origin.

The idiom in question: to throw one's hat in the ring.

We know what it means, of course – to enter the race, to join a contest, etc. – but where does the expression come from? Boxing, it turns out.

In the early days of boxing, bare fist or otherwise, the rings were literal rings formed by spectators. To offer yourself up as a fighter, or to challenge another, you simply threw your hat in the ring.

The first recorded use of the term in a boxing context occurred in the early 1800s. But how did it evolve into a political saying? We have avid boxes, and 26th President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., to thank for that.

In 1912, a reporter asked Roosevelt about his plans to challenge incumbent President Howard Taft, who had succeeded him. Old Teddy's response? "My hat is in the ring; the fight is on and I'm stripped to the buff."

Roosevelt went on to split from the mainstream Republican Party of the era and formed the short-lived Progressive Party, otherwise known as the Bull Moose Party, of 1912. His political ambitions to reclaim the presidency for progressivism ultimately failed, but his bullish, boxer's response to politics took root, especially with his use of the idiom.

Today you'll hear politicians and pundits alike talk about who's throwing their hat into an upcoming political race. Fortunately, despite how divided the parties seem to be these days, politics rarely comes to fisticuffs.

Five reasons to love milk

RECIPE

For The Southside Times by Family Features

Did you know milk is one of the most nutrient-rich beverages you can find? And that there are thousands of studies that have documented the benefits of drinking milk?

That's why nutrition experts recommend adults drink three servings of milk and milk products a day. Yet, most Americans fall short of the USDA's recommended daily servings. So, before you think about skipping your milk, here are five reasons to grab a glass.

1. It's a Nutrient Powerhouse. No matter your age, it's hard to get the nutrients you need without milk in your diet. Milk is the top food source for three out of four "nutrients of concern" – nutrients Americans are most lacking – including calcium, vitamin D and potassium. All milk – fat free, lowfat or organic – has 9 essential nutrients, including B vitamins for energy, vitamin A for a healthy immune system plus several bone-building nutrients.

2. It Ups the Protein Ante in the Morning. While many experts now recommend 25-30 grams of protein at each meal, the average breakfast plate only contains 13 grams. One way to help close the gap is to add an 8-ounce glass of milk to your eggs or Greek yogurt – that adds an extra 8 grams of high-quality protein!

3. Protein Power for Your Dollar. Milk is one of the best protein bargains for your dollar. For about 25 cents per glass, milk packs 8 grams of protein in every 8-ounce glass. This calculates to around 32 grams of high-quality protein per dollar! That's a big protein bang for your buck.

4. It is Not Easily Replaced. It's hard to get the nutrients you need without real dairy milk in your diet. The truth is, not all non-dairy milks have the same nutrients as real milk so it's important to know what you are getting in each glass. For instance, dairy milk has 8 times the protein of almond milk and rice milks, which can contain a long list of ingredients, including added sugar, salt and thickeners.

5. It's Wholesome, Real and Local. Milk is one of the original farm-to-table foods. Did you know 97 percent of dairy farms are still family-owned and operated? Little handling is done from farm to fridge – and that's why you can trust the milk you buy at the store is safe and wholesome.

This quinoa oatmeal serves up 13 grams of protein. Pair with an 8-ounce glass of milk to get 21 grams of protein power to start your day! Visit MilkLife.com for more recipes.

Nutty Blueberry Quinoa Oatmeal

Servings: 1

- 2/3 cup lowfat milk
- 1/3 cup old-fashioned oats
- 1/4 cup cooked quinoa
- 1/4 cup blueberries
- 1 teaspoon maple syrup or sweetener of choice
- 2 tablespoons pecan pieces
- 2-3 dashes cinnamon

Combine milk and oats and cook according to package instructions to desired creaminess.

Stir in quinoa, blueberries, maple syrup, pecans and cinnamon and serve hot.

Nutrition: 376 calories; 17 g fat; 3 g saturated fat; 13 mg cholesterol; 13 g protein; 46 g carbohydrates; 6 g fiber; 255 mg sodium; 23% calcium. Nutrition figures based on using lowfat milk.

Monkey see, monkey do

NUTRITION

By Chef Wendell Fowler

I'll never forget watching a mother shopping with her 2-year-old who was mesmerized by an eye-catching display of broccoli. "Mommy, what's this?" asked the child pointing to the display. "Oh, honey. You wouldn't like that," mom replied as she grabbed the child's arm and walked away. What?

I witness kids drinking Mt. Dew and eating junk food pastry as their most important meal of the day. Staying at a friend's home, our host give his child a can of coke and a 'Poop-Tart' for breakfast. When the child "got off", hyper and acting out from the sugar, HFCS, chemical preservatives, artificial colorings, and sweeteners surging through their bloodstream; Dad smacked the innocent tyke upside the head.

In our fast food society, there are people who defiantly proclaim they hate vegetables- especially green ones. It's hard wrapping my head around this sort of unawareness, since heavenly plant food is the universal foundation for human health.

Sadly, the CDC reports 9 in 10 children don't eat enough vegetables. In other words, they are malnourished. In order to reach their highest academic or sports potential, Kids need at least 40 vitamins and mineral daily until they're 18. Might this explain the appalling rates of obesity, diabetes, ADHD, aggressive bully behavior, lowered IQ and the impending zombie apocalypse I see at morning school bus stops?

What most vegaphobes don't realize is their immature behavior is leading to a society with more health problems than ever. Face it: no one is born hating vegetables. They are taught, mostly by parents projecting their silly food fears upon impressionable kids. Rather than allowing children to decide for themselves. Over the last 100 years American's have surrendered their moral responsibility for what they feed their precious kids into the hands of big food that immaturely places profit before "source of life" nutrition.

Veggies provide a balanced plate of nutrients; eating sufficient amounts of vegetables and fruit can help prevent heart disease, cancer, obesity, and type 2 diabetes. Vegetables also provide much needed potassium, vitamin C and A, folates, lutein, chlorophyll, fiber, good carbs, minerals and phytochemicals with antioxidant and antibacterial properties. Won't get that from a 'Poop-tart'?

Adding a colorful diversity of vegetables can significantly benefit kid's health. Perfect health is everyone's divine right. God didn't create mankind to be sick, fat, stupid, and lazy. We were created to express perfect health, but that will not happen until parents grow up and become responsible to America's future. The childhood impulse to imitate is strong, so act as a role model. It's futile expecting children to eat their vegetables while you gorge on potato chips and soda.

Nationwide Groupon Campaign raises over $335,000 for law enforcement K9 protective vests

The Marion County Sheriff Office's K9s Eik and Duco will receive ballistic vests due to a nationwide Groupon event that has risen more than $335,000. The "Occasions" campaign for Groupon Grassroots to outfit police K9's with bullet and stab protective vests ran from Feb. 15 through March 5 of 2015. Vested Interest in K9s, Inc. was the nationwide nonprofit organization and charity partner selected by Groupon Grassroots to participate. The online $10 donation suggested interested persons purchase a Groupon (a tax deductible donation) through the secure website where all funds were allocated to purchase ballistic vests for our four-legged crime fighters who put their lives on the line for the community and their partner. Vested Interest in K9s, Inc. also announced that their "Hog Wild for K9s" T-shirt is now available online for a $15.00 donation at vik9s.org. Proceeds will provide bullet and stab protective vests, for police dogs actively working without the potentially lifesaving equipment.

Progression in holistic worship

WHERE WE WORSHIP

Falam Baptist Church began as a fellowship in Perry Township with 21 people in 2001, establishing as a church in 2006. The church, currently located in Greenwood, now has more than 900 members, the majority of which are political refugees of the Chin State of Burma. Rev. Ci Lian Kap, who was among those first 21 members, said they anticipate the church membership to grow to nearly 1,000 within the year.

Their worship services are given in their Chin language, and Kap said they are welcoming to everyone. They have services for both adults and children.

“We provide here in physical need and spiritual need,” Kap said. “We help them with housing and everything, we set up for them. We focus on their spiritual need as well. That’s why they love this church.”

When the fellowship was changed to a church, Kap became their pastor. He said he was already a minister before moving to America, and he studied in ministry in California from 2001 to 2003.

Kap resides in Perry Township with his wife, Naw Eh Phaw and children, Nathan Van Lian Kap and Olivia Parthasin Kap.

What is it about your place of worship that helps you grow spiritually?

We do have a strong praise and worship service. We are welcoming to everybody and love everybody. When they come, they feel confident that it’s their home. We are doing what we call holistic ministry that meets physical need and spiritual. We focus on that.

We have children’s Sunday school. We have six classes. We have more than 20 children teachers so we give them biblical truth here. Parents want to send their children here because it helps their spiritual growth.

What is it about your place of worship that helps you feel connected to your spouse, children, parents or family?

My wife is always helping me at the church, especially with the church members who do not speak English. When they need to go to the hospital or appointment, she helps take them.

What is one meaningful event that has taken place at your place of worship?

We always have a happy time here, all of the time: Sunday worships, Saturday worships. We always have a big event here. Sometimes we do have special occasions here like Christmas, Mother’s Day, Good Friday. We have dinner together and special guests from another place. We eat together, share together. We have Chin Baptist Association in America and we have a conference every year.

Why would you recommend your place of worship to someone?

Here, you can find the biblical truth and we meet spiritual and physical need in this church. You will find it’s a home, in biblical study and taking care of the children.

Rev. Ci Lian Kap says Falam Baptist Church in Greenwood aims to meet the spiritual and physical needs of its growing membership

We have over 200 children here. In Sunday school, we mix American ways and Eastern ways. So children can learn Asian culture and American culture. In here, we are not only focusing on spiritual needs but also physical needs because a lot of new members are new to America and they need help with jobs, Medicaid, appointments, driving and arranging apartments.

God spared no expensive to save us

DEVOTIONAL

By Paul Kirby

He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things? Who shall lay anything to the charge of God’s elect? It is God that justifieth. Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

~ Romans 8:32-34

What God would not permit Abram to do, He did. Think about it. It was too reprehensible for God to allow Abram to offer his son Isaac as a human sacrifice for sin but God delivered His only begotten Son into our hands so that we could kill Him. God did this so that we could be justified by Him. By the way, His only begotten Son volunteered to be that sacrifice. What a marvelous God it is that we worship and adore.

God knew the pain that Abram would have suffered for having killed his own son. Abram was a man of faith indeed, but at the same time he was a father who loved his son more than life itself. Isaac was an obedient son to the end. Isaac was nothing more than and nothing greater than being the son of his father on whom all of the promise of the God to raise up a people for Himself rested. Abram knew this and he believed it even to the extent that he could put Isaac to death believing that even if he did that, God would raise him up again. God would do this because He had promised Abram that Isaac would be the child of Abram through which the promise of God would move forward.

Move forward a couple thousand years. Jesus is God’s only begotten Son. All of the ability of God to keep His promise to save and to justify a people that He could call His own dear and precious and particular people rests on Christ. Jesus is Christ. All that God promised would happen through Christ rests on Jesus. He must live to achieve what the Father promised. So He offers Himself up to die. He does so knowing that the Father would not leave Him dead.

Today, we know He lives. He lives to redeem and to justify and to sanctify a people that the Father knows is His own and particular people. God did not spare even His one and only begotten Son but let Him die to achieve His goal at having a people who would understand His reasoning.

God bless and go and have a great day.

Inventors Change Our Lives!

Six Steps to Invention

1. Notice a problem.
2. Think of a way to fix the problem.
3. Create a model of your idea.
4. Show and share your first model with others.
5. Make your model better by listening to what others tell you.
6. Finish your invention and have fun using it!
