Amazon's Greenwood fulfillment center now open for business

Amazon's fulfillment center in Greenwood officially opened for business on Sept. 4. Hundreds of full-time associates are currently employed at the 600,000 square-foot building. Employees receive inventory, pick and ship customer orders and support network logistics. Amazon is still hiring for positions, which pay a $15 minimum wage and offer healthcare, 401(k) and paid parental leave, in addition to pre-paying 95 percent of tuition for courses in high-demand fields.

Greenwood releases master development plan for former middle school property

Greenwood Mayor Mark W. Myers has released a master development plan for the 19-acre former middle school property located at 523 S. Madison Ave. in downtown Greenwood, known locally as Old Town. The Greenwood Redevelopment Commission (RDC) approved city officials to offer the first bid solicitation for 15 acres of property for development. Respondents will also have the option to propose developmental ideas encompassing three additional parcels and the four remaining acres to the south.

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS

Roncalli High School has provided a Christ-centered education on the Southside since 1969

By Stephanie Dolan

Roncalli High School may be celebrating its 50th anniversary, but the history of the institution goes back more than 90 years to the days of Sacred Heart High School, which was renamed John F. Kennedy Memorial High School in 1966.

A vigorous rivalry developed between Kennedy and Bishop Chartrand High School, which opened in 1962. Chartrand opened to serve a growing suburban south. Kennedy and Chartrand merged in 1969 to form one institution created to provide the very best in educational opportunities. The new school was named by students: Roncalli High School. The school was named in memory of Angelo Roncalli, more widely known as Saint John XXIII.

“To celebrate our rich heritage and now 50 years as Roncalli High School is so exciting,” Terese Carson, vice president for Institutional Advancement, said. “We stand on the foundation laid by all of the generations of Sacred Heart, Kennedy and Chartrand alumni that made Roncalli High School possible. Even though we are celebrating 50 years of providing a Christ-centered education to the Southside of Indianapolis and Johnson County, at times we feel that we are just getting started. We have experienced much success in academics, athletics, the arts and faith formation. We look forward to another 50 years and beyond of growing and being a beacon of light to many.”

ALUMNI MAKING A DIFFERENCE AROUND THE WORLD

Roncalli is the largest Catholic high school in the state of Indiana.

“Our students experience much success while at Roncalli and after they graduate,” Carson said. “Roncalli has alumni all over the world who are making a daily impact on our society.”

Creating an impact that can be felt around the world is something that Roncalli President Dr. Joseph Hollowell has been working at for 41 years. Time has passed quickly for both Hollowell and the institution he’s served for four decades. Just this week, he has announced his retirement in unison with Roncalli’s 50th anniversary celebration.

Dr. J. Hollowell

Hollowell has served as a chemistry teacher, football and baseball coach, principal, dean of students and president.

“The steadfast leadership of Dr. Hollowell has positively impacted tens of thousands of lives,” Gina Kuntz Fleming, superintendent of Catholic Schools for the Archdiocese of Indianapolis, said. “His deep desire to serve God and His people is evident in all he does. We are most grateful for Dr. Hollowell’s service and leadership and thank him for growing Roncalli High School into such a wonderful home where students are educated and formed in the Catholic faith.”

During Hollowell’s tenure, the campus has expanded from 14 to 45 acres to meet the school’s growing enrollment. He also led a fundraising campaign to raise over $35 million that went primarily for capital improvement additions to the school and campus such as a chapel, an administrative wing, a fine arts center, an auxiliary gym and 30 additional classrooms. In addition, a new 25,000-square-foot gymnasium will be opening in November.

“Dr. Hollowell’s dedication and commitment towards the growth, success and long-term viability of Roncalli is unparalleled,” Roncalli Board Chair Dr. Jeff Amodeo said. “On behalf of the board of directors, I would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to Dr. Hollowell for his lifetime commitment, not only to Roncalli, but also to furthering Catholic education. We offer prayers and best wishes as he prepares for the next phase in his life.”

People like Hollowell can be heard on Roncalli’s new podcast.

“We are releasing a weekly podcast (which started in April) to highlight those whom have made such a significant impact on our school community,” Carson said. “We launched a 50-year website, 50.roncalli.org, to showcase highlights of the past 50 years. Our students have a special uniform shirt to signify our 50 years. Everything we do this year will focus on our 50th birthday. There is much to celebrate this year.”

CELEBRATING EXCELLENCE IN ACADEMICS

Not the least of which is the academic excellence for which Roncalli is known.

“I think we’ve taken huge leaps and bounds in our academic programming both in our offerings for students as well as in the extreme quality that’s offered in all ranges,” Roncalli Principal Chuck Weisenbach said. “We’ve really been able to broaden our curriculum to meet the needs of all our students.”

Weisenbach also said that the opportunities for girls in athletics was at one time very limited and has now exploded over the years at Roncalli.

“I think what it all reflects is an incredible sacrifice,” he said. “It’s two or three generations of people – maybe families on the Southside – who continue to make huge sacrifices to make a Catholic education available. It also represents a commitment to Catholic churches on the Southside during that time period. When I think of that 50 years, I think of the sacrifices that so many have made to make this school possible.”

“If somebody would’ve told me that we would be here 50 years from the time I came to work I would not have believed it,” Bob Tully, vice president for Mission and Ministry, said. “As you know, the Catholic schools have been through ups and downs for years and years. For us to be here it took some great leadership. We have that from Dr. Hollowell and Mr. Weisenbach as principal. I should have known that God creates miracles when people work hard.”

Roncalli will host a celebration dinner on Sept. 19.

“We are celebrating,” Tully said. “Because we’re a Catholic school and the Catholic identity of our school is second to none. As a Catholic school we try to teach our students that God is present and active in their lives. We do that very well. I think that’s the reason that God continues to smile on us with a very substantial enrollment and great teachers and great leadership. Come visit Roncalli and you’ll see what I’m talking about.”

MESSAGE FROM RONCALLI'S PRINCIPAL

Roncalli High School continues to offer young people and their families a life-changing experience that propels them on a path for success in life!

Guided by our Catholic faith and bolstered by a tradition of academic and extracurricular excellence, Roncalli is not so much an academic institution as much as it is a transformational institution. RHS principal, Chuck Weisenbach, commented, "We truly believe that the experience that awaits all students at our school is transformational! When you allow the Holy Spirit to be a vibrant part of your daily life, one cannot help but to be transformed. We have worked very hard to attract and retain some of the state's finest, most passionate, faith-filled educators! They are the ones that work daily with students, in and out of the classroom, helping them in their efforts to discern their talents, develop their talents and share their talents with the world. When done well, we are helping to make the world a better place while building up God's kingdom here on Earth."

Roncalli is proud to offer the most comprehensive academic programming for any faith-based school in our state. The school offers rigorous, challenging coursework for students of all academic levels, including students with special needs as well as those seeking training for post-secondary vocational opportunities. It truly lives out its mission to be a life prep school!

Students find joy, fulfillment and life-impacting experiences through a dynamic performing arts program and a highly respected and successful athletic program, as well as a plethora of wide-ranging clubs!

To assist in their understanding of the Biblical message that it is better to give than to receive, all students complete a minimum of 144 hours of community service by the time they graduate. Most of these hours are spent serving those less fortunate in and around central Indiana. The overwhelming majority of our graduates far exceed the required number of 144 hours.

Roncalli is a welcoming community whose overarching mission is to help each person in our school and school family (students, faculty, staff, parents, etc.) in their daily walk with Christ. I invite and encourage all parents to consider Roncalli as they explore high school options for their child!

MESSAGES FROM RONCALLI'S ALUMNI

"Roncalli High School has had an amazing history the past 50 years. I am so thankful that my family, like so many other Southside Catholic families, have had the opportunity to be part of this faithful and hard-working community. With the good Lord by our side, all things seem possible and the only way to explain the continued success against the odds we have enjoyed in the classroom, field of play or on the stage. We are blessed!"

class of 1981

"My Roncalli education was the greatest investment my parents ever made in me. It was truly a home away from home that nurtured my faith, well-being and my academic pursuit. When you allow the Holy Spirit to lead you, good things happen, and Roncalli's 50 years of seeking to follow the will of God is a testament to that. This anniversary is a blessing to be able to celebrate all those that came before me and worked so hard to make Roncalli who we are now. I am honored to be a teacher here so that I can give back to this community that has given so much to me!"

Katie Hibner, chair,
Roncalli Theology Department

"I think my time at Roncalli transformed me from just a young person to a person of strong faith with a strong conviction to make the world a better place. I felt as I left Roncalli that I was being led to use my talents in whatever way the Lord would use me. The coaches and the teachers I had as a student really set the stage for me to answer the call, and I'll be forever grateful for that."

RONCALLI KICKS OFF 50TH ANNIVERSARY WITH SUMMER SOCIAL

By Nancy Price

Roncalli High School officially kicked off a celebration of the school's 50-year history with a family-friendly summer social last Sunday.

Kids jumped around on bounce houses, cooled off with Slip N Slides and sat for face paintings. Families chowed down on dinner available at various food trucks while listening to a Rebel5ive podcast and live music from MIXTAPE, a local 90s party band.

"We had about 400 people in attendance," said Terese Carson, Vice President for Institutional Advancement at Roncalli High School. "There were some kickball games on the softball diamond. Lots of giveaways. About 200 T-shirts were 'flown into the air' from our T-shirt launcher. The weather was perfect, and the evening culminated in fireworks at 10 p.m. Our guests ranged in age from babies to one guest whom was over 90 years old. It was truly a generational event. Some families had three generations of alumni in attendance."

The evening began with mass in the Roncalli gymnasium, led by Father Douglas Hunter, Roncalli's new chaplain coordinator. Fr. Hunter, a graduate of Cardinal Ritter High School, has also served as pastor at St. Roch Catholic Church for the past year. In addition, he is the chaplain for the Indianapolis Colts.

The school's next event will be a 50 Year Celebration Dinner on Sept. 19. "We are also releasing a weekly podcast (which started in April) to highlight those whom have made such a significant impact on our school community," Carson said. "Our students have a special uniform shirt to signify our 50 years. Everything we do this year will focus on our 50th birthday! Our new gymnasium is set to open in October. There is much to celebrate this year!"

For more information about upcoming events, visit 50.roncalli.org.

Greenwood Mayor Mark Myers signed a proclamation in 2017 declaring Sept. 17-23 as Constitution Week. (Submitted photos)

Mary Bryan Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution celebrates Constitution Week

FEATURE

By Nancy Price

The Mary Bryan Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution in Greenwood is spreading awareness of the anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution.

Constitution Week is celebrated each year from Sept. 17-23.

Lou Ann Bennett, chairperson of the Constitution committee for the Mary Bryan Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution, said she thinks it's important for U.S. citizens to understand the Constitution because "the purpose of the Constitution was to establish our federal government."

"We provide handouts about the Constitution to local libraries and try to get articles in the paper," she said. "We have in the past had the mayor of Greenwood do a proclamation declaring Constitution Week for Greenwood."

L. Bennett

While Independence Day celebrates the signing of the Declaration of Independence, fewer people know about Constitution Week. The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) initiated the observance in 1955, when the organization petitioned U.S. Congress to dedicate the week of Sept. 17-23 as Constitution Week. Congress adopted the resolution. On Aug. 2, 1956, then President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed it into Public Law #915.

"The framers created a Constitution that translated into law the ideals upon which our nation was built," said DAR President General Denise Doring VanBuren. "Their vision was so forward thinking that their words still guide us today. No American history education can be complete without a thorough understanding of the impact the Constitution has had on the lives of American citizens, past and present."

Fun facts about the Constitution of the United States

- Unlike the Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson did not write or sign the Constitution. He was in France at the time.
- At 81, Benjamin Franklin was the oldest person to sign the Constitution. He was in such poor health that he had to have help to sign it.
- It took 100 days to "frame" (create) the Constitution.
- Constitution Day is celebrated Sept. 17, the date it was signed in 1787.

Having tea at the Rustic Root

FEATURE

By Stephanie Dolan

In 2015, Tammy Hanna opened the Rustic Root Gift Shop, but her dream was to incorporate a tea room along with the store. When the space at 626 Main St. in Beech Grove came along, Hanna jumped on it and the Rustic Root Tea Room and Gift Shop opened in 2017.

"We opened the tea room two years ago, and it's changed my business tremendously," Hanna said. "The food here is our best seller. We have a lot of high teas. We're a little different than most tea rooms. Most tea rooms serve high tea at a certain time, and we do it when it's most convenient for you. Just give us 24 hours' notice, and we can do it anytime you wish. We do princess teas, grand teas and petite teas."

Hanna previously worked in a doctor's office before going to work for her husband's business, Hanna's Wrecker Parts and Recycle.

"I felt like I was always in front of a computer," she said. "I wanted to have more of a purpose. I always said that when I retire, I'm going to have my own tea room and gift shop. My husband told me not to wait – to just do it – that you never know what tomorrow will bring."

Hanna's sister, Jenny Wensel, had herself been in restaurant management for 23 years.

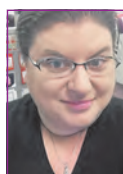

"She takes care of managing the people," Hanna said. "I take care of decorating and marketing."

Hanna's favorite thing on the menu is the BLT with herbed mayo, and she loves baking the scones from scratch every morning.

"Right now, we have a lot of baked goods in our cabinet, and we make those in house," she said. "But we also use Liz Thompson to make a lot of our specialty cakes. She does all kinds. She is going to be joining our tea room as a business within a business. We're going to add on to the back of the building. We can also do some evening meals and have a bigger variety of food. She's a real cake artist, and we're excited for her to be here."

For more information, find Rustic Root on f or call (317) 591-9497 to make a reservation.

TOP 10 REASONS NORTH KOREA IS PICKING A FIGHT

By Torry Stiles

Dear readers: A recent discussion with some friends brought this list from April of 2013 to mind. I unashamedly repeat it as a reminder.

10. They really have their sights set on a vacation in Paris ... Paris, IL will do.
9. His father never hugged him. Gave him leadership of one of the most repressive regimes on the planet, but never hugged him. He's just looking for a hug.
8. One of their pep rallies got out of hand and T-P-ing our football field wasn't enough to satisfy the crowd.
7. Going for the big aids package: "We declare war on Monday, be vanquished Tuesday and rehabilitated beyond our wildest dreams by Friday night!"
6. Had all these shiny tank-y and bomb-y doodads and didn't know what to do with them.
5. Has to talk mean and tough because the other leaders at the Presidents Club make fun of a guy named Kim.
4. Beyoncé turned down their invite and went to Cuba instead.
3. Their government blocks CNN and Fox so they missed the whole Iraq/Afghanistan thing.
2. That whole gun ban thing had them convinced we'd be vulnerable.
1. Conquering South Korea is the only way they can get ESPN and HBO.

Perry Township elementary schools partner with Big Green Indy to build Learning Gardens

Health and fitness – Several Perry Township elementary schools, including Rosa Parks Elementary, are partnering with Big Green Indy to build Learning Gardens. Pictured is Big Green Indy Garden Educator Matt Davis, helping Rosa Parks students pour soil into their garden. Students in grades 2-5 were invited to plant gardens in the schoolyard. They planted an assortment of fall vegetables. Big Green is building a national school food culture that promotes youth wellness. The organization connects kids to real food through a network of Learning Gardens and food literacy programs. After students plant and harvest the produce, they will feast on the veggies. When school is not in session, any harvested food will be given to food pantries to families in need.

Perry Township Schools Board of Education seeking replacement for board member

Board of Education – The Perry Township Schools Board of Education will have an opening for a board member, effective October 2019. Board member Collin Fultz will resign, as he is moving out of state. During his tenure, Collin provided thoughtful feedback in the best interest of our students, and we wish the Fultz family well in their next adventure. Candidates interested in serving as a school board member should submit a resume and cover letter explaining why they would like to serve on the board through Dec. 31, 2022, the duration of the term. Please send resume and cover letter by Monday, Sept. 23 at noon to boardofeducation@perryschools.org or to 6548 Orinoco Ave., Indianapolis, IN 46227, Attention: Mr. Pat Mapes. Appointment of the position will take place October 2019.

Perry Kiwanis inducts Jack Sandlin

Kiwanis induction – Jack Sandlin (center) was inducted into Perry Kiwanis recently by treasurer Scott Splichal (right), with assistance from sponsor and past president Jeff Udrasols. Sandlin currently serves in the Indiana Senate representing Dist. 36, which includes much of Perry Township. He is a retired law enforcement officer and small business owner. A native of Indianapolis, he graduated from Greenwood High School and received an M.B.A. degree from Indiana Wesleyan University. He and his wife Lydia have one daughter and three grandchildren. Kiwanis holds fundraising events throughout the year, including its concession stand at Baxter YMCA, which started Aug. 24, its recent golf outing and its February chili cook-off. Community programs supported include college scholarships, Baxter YMCA and Riley Hospital for Children, among others.

It Chapter 2 An impactful film held back by technical quirks

MOVIE REVIEW

By Bradley Lane

Andy Muschietti's It (2017) is currently the highest grossing horror film of all time. Naturally then, adapting Stephen King's work became the hottest trend in Hollywood horror. Since the success of It there have been feature films adapted from King's work and there are currently two set to release later this year and three more in development. Unfortunately, these films have lacked the quality of It, more than likely due to rushed production to cash in on the current King craze. It Chapter 2 promises to be more than just another remake though, because it is written and directed by the team that started the trend, and not just another imitator.

Similar to the 1990 mini-series, the second half of the adaptation introduces the audience to the original cast of characters from the first half as adults. Most find themselves in similar, if not downright identical scenarios. Beverly is dealing with an abusive spouse rather than an abusive father, Eddie married an overly controlling woman eerily similar to his own mother, Mike is struggling with an intense obsession with the supernatural in Derry, Richie turned his skill of handling trauma with comedy into a career, Ben became a successful and conventionally attractive architect but is deeply lonely in his successes and Bill became a celebrated author, despite the universal claim that his endings are awful. However, when Mike finally discovers proof that Pennywise is back in Derry, he calls the Losers club back to defeat him, once and for all.

The most striking aspect of It Chapter 2 is just how well the cast represents the characters presented in the first film. Not only do the actors physically resemble the child actors they replaced, but they also present a logical progression of their characters. Twenty-seven years have passed since the events of the first film, and while some character elements and mannerisms have remained consistent, they have all grown in convincing ways since the first film. Throughout the film its most compelling element is how the characters deal with their own personal issues as they interact and collaborate with one another to stop Pennywise.

Unfortunately, while the character development shines in It Chapter 2, the technical aspects, and more specifically, the direction and special effects work often distracts from the most important elements of the story. The direction is almost uniformly uninspired in sections of the film designed to scare audiences. There is an overreliance on cheap and dull jump scares, Dutch angles (a technique that tilts the camera to denote psychological tension in the subject being filmed) and strobe lighting effects. The film is at its weakest when it neglects its more interesting character moments, to focus on the more crowd pleasing scary sequences. It gets so caught up in these horror signifiers that it loses focus on what makes It so special in the first place, its characters.

Despite these missteps, the film's finale is extremely cathartic and ultimately expresses a compelling message about overcoming trauma and the role friendship plays in that battle.

Bradley is a Beech Grove High School alumnus and has been enamored by film for as long as he can remember. He is currently in his third year studying at IUPUI, majoring in Media and Public Affairs with a minor in Film. Bradley can be contacted at blane2214@gmail.com.

How to capitalize on being a word nerd

GRAMMAR GUY

By Curtis Honeycutt

I'm about to hit you with a mnemonic device that will bring the armies of men into peace with the wood elves. That's right; I have one device to rule them all when it comes to remembering the eight rules of capitalization, and it comes from Lord of the Rings. Is this going to be nerdy? You betcha. Are you ready? Whenever you want to recall what gets capitalized, just remember "Forgetful Bilbo Baggins took Pippin into Sam's watermelon marmalade store." It's as simple as that.

F is for the first letter in a sentence. This is an easy one. Always capitalize the first letter in a sentence. Your phone automatically does it, as does your computer's word processing software. That's why God invented Clippy.

B stands for buildings and other manmade structures. This means we need to capitalize the Statue of Liberty, the Eiffel Tower and the Brooklyn Bridge.

The second B is for borders of countries, states, counties and regions. Always capitalize Jamaica, New Jersey, Jakarta and Jefferson County.

T is for titles. "Titles" relates to people (Dr. Quinn), formal job titles (when the job title immediately precedes the person's name: Emperor Palpatine, and book and movie titles (The Hunt for Red October). You'll notice I didn't capitalize "for" in the previous title. In titles, do capitalize the first word, adjectives, nouns and the last word. Do not capitalize conjunctions (including and, but and or), articles (a, an, the) or prepositions (including for, to or by).

P is for people. Always capitalize people's names (Frodo, Sauron, Gandalf, etc.).

I is for I. Yes, an I for an I. Capitalize the word "I." Again, many of our robot devices do this for us automatically. Also, make sure to never stare directly into the Eye of Sauron; it will haunt your dreams for 1,000 eternities.

S is for schools, including colleges and universities. Although I don't think Gandalf ever taught at Hogwarts' School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, I'm sure they'd let him substitute.

W is for bodies of water. The Red River separates Oklahoma from Texas. The Southern Ocean wasn't a thing when I was in school. You get the idea.

M is for mountains. Be careful when climbing Mount Doom; you might drop your jewelry into it.

Finally, S is for streets. Good luck finding a place where the streets have no name, because people love naming things. The president lives at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Although The Beatles sang about Penny Lane, their recording studio was on Abbey Road.

Forgetful Bilbo Baggins took Pippin into Sam's watermelon marmalade store. Memorize that and you'll be able to harness all the powers of capitalization against the terrible gaze of the Eye of Sauron.

Whiteland High School football player dies suddenly

FEATURE

By Angela Morefield

The town of Whiteland is grieving the loss of a beloved high school sophomore and football player.

Ryan David Latham, son of Stephen and Carol Latham, was only 15 years old when he passed away from Sudden Cardiac Death (SCD) unexpectedly in his sleep Aug. 24.

Ryan, nicknamed "RyGuy," and "Big Sugar," was all about life, according to his parents. They said his eyes were filled with wonder and joy, and his heart was full of love for his family; that may have been because somehow, he knew his life would be short.

The Lathams held a memorial four days later. The Whiteland High School football field filled with nearly 1,000 of Ryan's friends and family. The colors orange and blue filled the seats in memory of his love for football and his team. Ryan was a lineman at Whiteland High School, and he could not wait to be on that field, according to Carol. "(During) his fourth-grade football season, his coaches Chris Emberton, Brent Denham and Jesse Denham penned him with the nickname, 'Big Sugar,'" she said. "They gave him so much confidence in himself and turned him from a football player to a beast on the field."

Ryan's favorite thing to do besides sports was to play video games, mostly Overwatch and the Destiny series. He described himself as a gamer. His favorite cartoon movie was Finding Nemo, and like his father, Ryan had a great love for superheroes. And food.

"He loved all the food except mushrooms and blueberries. He was an equal opportunity diner. But he loved pistachios, beef jerky, for snacks." Carol said. "He loved all music and was unashamed of his love for Katy Perry songs."

Stephen remembered that just nights before Ryan's passing, they sat together for almost two hours at Ryan's his little brother's (Renny) football practice, just talking. Some about football, some about life. "It's the last solid conversation I had with him," Stephen Latham said. "I'll always hold on to that."

Ryan was funny, kind, gentle and always happy, according to Carol. "One of my favorite things was when we went on vacation this year; he bought a snorkel mask. He was absolutely amazed by it and was so excited every time he went underwater," she said. "Ryan was always amazed and excited by the little things. I wish we could all stay that way, with that childlike mindset and light in our eyes."

Niki Garod, a close friend of the Lathams, organized a GoFundMe account, Ryan Latham Memorial Fund. The Latham family has started a scholarship fund in Ryan's name. Any money left after funeral expenses will go toward the scholarship fund. Ryan would want nothing more than to help another student reach their dreams, according to his parents.

Weekly Devotion

4 And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I.

5 And He said, Draw not nigh hither: put off your shoes from off your feet, for the place whereon thou stand is holy ground.

6 Moreover He said, I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses hid his face; for he was afraid to look upon God.

EXODUS 3:4-6

God has never spoken to me in the same manner as He spoke to Moses. Yet,

He does speak and when He speaks, He makes Himself and His will clear. In the very opening verses of the book of Hebrews it says this: "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, has in these last days spoken unto us by His Son, whom He has appointed heir of all things, by whom also He made the worlds. ..."

God no longer has to speak to any one or all of us in any other manner than He has spoken through His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ. He has made Himself clear as He spoke through His Son. What is His will? His will for us is similar to His will for the people He called His people in Moses' time. It is that we come out of and away from our sin and to a place that He has prepared and reserved for all that love Him. Even as the Jews did not know about this place He was taking them, we have little knowledge of the place He has prepared for us. Paul tells us: "Eye has not seen nor the ear heard not has the mind the ability to comprehend what God had prepared for those who love Him." I believe that this has two manifestations. One is for our journey to this place and the other once we arrive. We will be overwhelmed by it all. I had no idea what my journey in this life was going to be like the day I accepted Christ as my Lord and Savior. I don't know a lot about my destination other than it is a place that will far exceed any expectation that I have.

As I stand before God in this life, I expect to stand with Him for all eternity. I pray the same for everyone else. Today would be a good day for you to begin your journey toward the home that God has prepared for His people.

God bless and go and have a great day.

Paul A. Kirby is the pastor at the Church of God at 3939 S. Emerson Ave.
